Farmers Told 'Soil Bank' Can Be Used This Season

Ike Thumps Tub For Poll Win

GOP Complacency Hit In Campaign Speech

In an informal address at a Citizens for Eisenhower national campaign conference, Eisenhower alluded to his heart attack last September and touched off a laugh by saying that the only way he has now of knowing he was ill "is that the doctors keep reminding me."

The President added that he is now ready to "go forward" into the campaign and to work cheerfully and energetically for victory in November.

The goal, he declared, is "clean government, good government, progressive government and government that knows its place and doesn't interfere with me as I go about my duties."

The last part of that remark brought a laugh. The President did not elaborate on it.

Turning then to the aspirations of his administration, Eisenhower declared:

* * *

"THE GOALS we set have not been reached but progress has been made" toward maintaining a stable economy and making certain that America is strong "in the councils of the world." He added:

"The prestige of the United States has never been as high since the last world war as it is today."

Calling on the committee to work hard to bring about a Republican victory in November, Eisenhower spoke of his administration as a developer of a "great middle of the road philosophy of government."

"If we never lose sight of the goal, that is progress and we are carrying the torch," Eisenhower said. "We are not carrying ashes."

Clements Pleased By Kentucky Poll

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Earle C. Clements, pleased by pledges of support from the enemy camp in his own party, said today the Democrats will carry on in full harmony in the November general election.

The Senate's majority whip said wires of encouragement were received from all opposition leaders including Gov. A. B. Chandler, after his hard-hitting victory over Joe B. Bates in Tuesday's Democratic primary. Bates had solid Chandler backing.

On the Republican side, Thurston B. Morton was a shoo-in choice to oppose Clements in November.

Safety Council Holds Hope Against New Death Record

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council declared today "there is still time" to halt the trend toward a new high in highway traffic deaths.

Ned H. Dearborn, Council president, made the statement as the council counted a total of 101 highway deaths for Memorial Day. It had predicted that 110 persons would die on the nation's roads during the holiday.

Dearborn said that a recently completed tabulation showed that the April death toll of 2,960 was the highest for the month's history.

The previous high of 2,851 was set in 1953.

In addition, Dearborn said, traffic fatalities for the first four months of this year claimed 11,550 lives, an all-time high. The old mark of 11,281 was set in a comparative period in 1937.

He called for "resolute and prompt action" by public officials local organizations and individuals to curb the increasing death rate. At the current pace, he said, the 1956 traffic death toll could reach 42,[illegible], eclipsing the previous high of [illegible], set in 1941.

* * *

APRIL WAS THE 14th consecutive month in which traffic deaths were higher than for a corresponding month in 1955.

The Memorial Day toll was in addition to accidental death of other types. The Council said that 29 persons drowned and 30 died in miscellaneous mishaps.

Ohioans observed a relatively safe and sane Memorial Day. Only six accidental deaths were reported from 6 p. m. Tuesday to last midnight. Four deaths occurred in traffic accidents.

The nation's over-all Memorial Day accident toll total of 160 compares with 111 reported in an Associated Press survey May 16, a nonholiday Wednesday. That day's toll was 70 traffic deaths, 8 drownings and 33 miscellaneous deaths.

The record traffic death rate for any one-day holiday was set on Christmas 1946, when 253 persons were killed.

Last year's Memorial Day holiday extended over a three-day period (a weekend) and 369 persons lost their lives in motor mishaps. Total deaths were 596.

Generally mild weather lured millions of motorists to the highways yesterday in the first holiday of the spring-summer season.

3 Steel Firms Set For Talks With Union

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Representatives of the nation's three largest basic steel producers came here today to open unprecedented joint contract negotiations with the United Steel workers.

For the first time, the three companies (U. S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Co., and Republic Steel Co.) joined at the bargaining table. But they emphasized they were acting separately.

After David J. McDonald, president of the USW, had announced the new procedure in negotiations earlier this week, Vice President John A. Stephens of U. S. Steel said the move is not to be construed as industrywide bargaining.

"It is a joint effort to reach an early settlement," he said.

The three companies employ about 350,000 of the 650,000 USW members in the basic steel industry whose contracts expire at midnight June 30.

Representatives of the "Big Three" and the USW will meet here again tomorrow. The sessions then are expected to recess until June 6.

Meanwhile, negotiations with other companies are expected to be on a standby basis — to see what happens between the USW and the Big Three.

Included in 22 union proposals are requests for a "substantial" wage increase, a 52-week program of layoff benefits, premium pay for weekend work, and an insurance program paid for entirely by the companies. The steelworkers average hourly pay now is $2.46.

Jury Deadlock On Overdraft Case

The jury was unable to agree yesterday on a verdict in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. D. Logsdon. Another trial was set for Sept. 13.

The couple denied they knew former Whitesville bank cashier Bernard Barrett honored checks when they lacked funds to cover them.

Barrett, who indulged certain customers who wrote checks against insufficient funds, is serving a prison term for letting a $520,000 shortage accumulate.

Red Ships Visit

Joint Chiefs May Get Red Invite Too

Some U. S. Officials See Soviet Bid Slated For Next Maneuver

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some U. S. officials believe Moscow will follow up its successful bid to Gen. Nathan F. Twining with invitations to other American military leaders to visit Russia.

Members of the Soviet high command may be asked to come to the United States in return.

Secretary of the Air Force Donald A. Quarles announced yesterday that "with the authorization of the President" Twining had accepted an invitation to a Soviet Aviation Day celebration June 24. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, will be accompanied by several subordinate officers.

Quarles said the decision to accept had been approved also by Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of State Dulles, who is presently on a 10-day vacation. The Russian Embassy was advised of the decision.

* * *

THE DECISION for Twining to accept was speeded by a weekend report from Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow making clear the bid was a firm one. This indicated that the Soviet government was not interested at the moment in inviting other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for a tour of Russian military establishments.

Comments from the White House and Defense Department showed they would welcome a broadened invitation, but when it became evident that this would not be promptly forthcoming the decision was made for Twining to accept.

As a matter of policy, it appears that Soviet moves for increasing military contacts with the United States have confronted Eisenhower and his chief advisers with a choice of difficult and risky alternatives.

The central problem is this:

1. How can the United States enter into friendlier military relations with Russia without causing its allies and the free world generally to lower its guard and relax vigilance against Soviet communism?

2. On the other hand, can the United States afford to cold-shoulder Soviet moves for more normal relations in the military field without appearing to other countries to have a kind of Iron Curtain of its own?

Eisenhower himself is described as convinced that more and closer American-Russian contact are in themselves desirable in the interest of peace.

Kefauver Battles To Regain Ground Lost To Stevenson

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, fighting to regain ground lost in his Florida primary defeat, campaigned at full throttle today to whip Adlai Stevenson in California's climactic Democratic presidential primary.

Stevenson obviously was buoyed by his Florida victory over Kefauver as he too pushed a drive for votes in the California primary next Tuesday.

The rival candidates quickly resumed their in-fighting. Kefauver blamed his Florida defeat on support given to Stevenson by what he called "Talmadge-type" politicians. Stevenson retorted that Kefauver was a "sore loser" and accused his opponent of "mud slinging."

The California primary is a winner-take-all proposition, with 68 convention votes the jackpot prize. It also is the last direct Kefauver-Stevenson test before the Democratic convention in August.

* * *

KEFAUVER, ranging the San Diego area yesterday, flung at Stevenson the old age pension and "bossism" issues he used in Florida, where Stevenson pocketed 22 of the state's 28 national convention votes.

With only 23 of Florida's 1,778 precincts unreported, Stevenson has 221,718 votes to 209,447 for Kefauver, an edge of slightly more than 12,000.

Kefauver said his record reflected unflagging solicitude for the elderly. And he repeated his Florida accusation that Stevenson, while governor of Illinois, vetoed a bill that would have raised old age pensions.

Stevenson has called that charge unfair, saying he vetoed the bill because the State Legislature failed to appropriate money to implement it. California, like Florida, has a substantial number of retired citizens.

On the "bossism" issue, Kefauver said, "One of the great dangers of the present campaign in California is that the Old Guard politicans are using the campaign of Mr. Stevenson to climb back into power."

He said the "main reason I lost in Florida" was that "Talmadge-type politicians" were for Stevenson and "against me on the civil rights issue." The term "Talmadge-type politicians," Kefauver said, referred to former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, a strongly prosegregation leader.

Stung by Kefauver's charges, Stevenson declared:

* * *

"SEN. KEFAUVER is engaged in mud slinging that will hurt the Democratic party. I shall not stoop to those tactics. I am sorry that he has resorted to personal abuse and deceit in these last days of the primary campaign."

Florida's primary results increase the pledged and favorably committed national convention votes to 174 for Stevenson and 133 for Kefauver.

Stevenson	148½
Kefauver	127
Others	180½
Total	798

There will be 1,372 votes in the convention, with 686½ needed for a nomination.

The 180½ for "others" are spread among 10 men. The leading three are Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, with 56½; Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, 54, and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 46.

President Eisenhower's pickup of 26 additional delegates in the Florida primary runs his total delegates to 790 out of 923 chosen. A majority in the GOP National Convention will be 662.

Mingo St Woman Burned As Spilled Gasoline Explodes

An Eastend woman suffered leg burns Wednesday when spilled gasoline she was trying to wash away in her basement suddenly exploded.

Mrs. Ed Warner of 114 Mingo St. reportedly did not require hospital treatment following the accident. Firemen said she knocked over a can of gasoline while sweeping out the basement and was trying to wash the fuel down a drain when the heat from a water heater apparently ignited the gas.

The Circleville Fire Department was summoned to the scene at 8:35 a. m.

Teen-Agers Bring Terror To Great Lakes Park Boat

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A holiday outing ended in a voyage of terror for passengers aboard a Lake Erie amusement park vessel last night as teen-agers rioted aboard the ship.

Reporters aboard the crowded Canadiana for the 15-mile trip from Crystal Beach amusement park in Ontario to this city described it as "a nightmare of flashing knives and sobbing, frightened" passengers.

Cpl. J. E. Legate of the Ontario provincial police at Crystal Beach was quoted by the Buffalo Courier-Express as saying the disorders were "strictly racial."

But F. L. Hall, general manager of the amusement park, said the disturbance there was "not a race riot."

Six persons were treated for injuries at hospitals in Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont., and at least 10 others were treated for minor injuries at the park.

* * *

The Negro youths were charged with unlawful assembly and the whites with creating a disturbance. All were released under $500 bail each.

Police said no charges were placed against them immediately.

It was not known what set off the disturbances at the beach. An estimated 15,000 to 20,000 persons, mostly Americans, were reported at the park yesterday.

Margaret Wynn and Dick Hirsch of the Buffalo Courier-Express, who were aboard the three-decked steamship, reported that "nearly 40 white youngsters, several beaten or cut, cowered below decks in the ship's dining room for most of the trip after being attacked or threatened by the many Negro teen-agers who made up the majority of the passengers."

The reporters estimated that of the approximately 1,000 passengers, 80 per cent were Negroes.

"Members of the ship's crew and private police," the reporters wrote, "vainly attempted to keep order, but when one fight was broken up, another flared in a different portion of the boat."

"Firecrackers were carelessly flung at passengers, exploding at their feet. Several received powder burns. Switch-blade knives were brandished. Youngsters were shoved to the deck by the rampaging mobs which rushed back and forth over the decks."

Benson Limits Use To Crops Not Matured

Rates Listed For Corn, Wheat Taken Out Of Current Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson announced today that farmers in areas where 1956 crops are not too far advanced will be permitted to "bank" some croplands this year under the new $1.2 billion annual soil bank program.

Under this program, authorized by a new farm law signed by President Eisenhower Monday, the department will offer payments to farmers for reducing plantings of such surplus crops as wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

Payments will not be offered, Benson explained, on crops that already have matured.

Benson announced rates which will be offered for taking land out of wheat, corn, cotton and rice. Rates for tobacco and peanuts will be announced within a few days.

The rates are: corn 90 cents bushel; cotton 15 cents a pound; wheat $1.20 a bushel, and rice $2.25 a hundred pounds. These rates are equivalent to about 60 per cent of parity in the case of corn, cotton and wheat and 50 per cent of parity in the case of rice.

* * *

PARITY IS a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay.

For example, a farmer who took 10 acres of corn land out of production, and who has had an average yield of 50 bushels an acre, would get a payment of 500 bushels times 90 cents or $450.

Benson said the payments were designed, on the average, to be equal to or a little better than the net returns made on these crops, after paying production costs.

In order to be eligible for such payments, a farmer would have to plant less than the acreage allotment assigned him for any affected crop under the department's crop control program.

Benson said cut off dates for signing contracts to participate in

Tallahassee Bus Boycott Forms Quickly

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A Negro boycott of city bus service has been judged about 50 per cent effective after one day of operation.

About 200 Negroes met Tuesday night and voted to boycott the buses until seating of white persons and Negroes on predominantly Negro lines is made on a first come, first served basis. They also want Negro drivers on the predominantly Negro lines and more courtesy from white drivers.

The meeting followed the arrest of two Florida A&M University students who had taken seats in the front of a Cities Transit Co. bus and refused to move to the rear.

Charges against the two women, Wilhelmina Jakes, 26, and Carrie F. Patterson, 20, were dropped by police yesterday. Chief Frank Soutamire said the cases would be turned over to authorities of the all-Negro institution. The coeds have been accused of placing themselves in a position to incite a riot. They had been released on $25 bond each.

The boycott started before the charges were dropped.

Boycott leaders estimated the number of Negro passengers had been cut in half. They said a 21-car pool was formed.

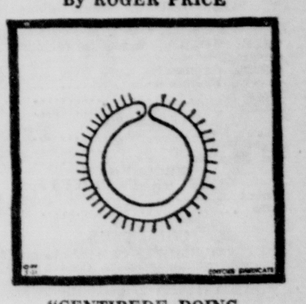
DROODLES

By ROGER PRICE



"CENTIPEDE DOING CARTWHEEL"

This Droodle made a big hit with Mr. Trompopolous, the friendly exterminator who comes around once a month to service Mrs. Goonsgarten's boarding house where I live. Mr. T. is so kindhearted he refuses to get rid of bugs and rodents with poison or traps. Instead he drives them off the premises with more subtle methods such as playing the "Flight of the Bumble Bee" on the trumpet, hollering "Fire" and dropping sly remarks such as "I hear the lady next door just bought a 50-pound wedge of cheese" or "It's a shame the city's going to blow up this house and build a parking lot." Unfortunately, his system has one tiny fault. It usually gets rid of more boarders than bugs.

U. N. Calls Off Activities Of Truce Team In Korea; Red Buildup Rapped

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command said today it is calling off all operations of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in South Korea and pulling team members back into the neutral zone.

The action was announced in a blistering statement accusing the North Korean Communists of armistice violations and the Czech and Polish members of the commission of covering up illegal Red activities.

Some hours later, Pyongyang radio said North Korea will discharge 80,000 men from its armed forces by Aug. 31. It called on South Korea to follow suit, saying the reductions would speed talks on unification of the country.

The North Korea broadcast did not say how many troops the Communist regime expected to have after Aug. 31.

U. S. Maj. Gen. R. G. Gard charged the Communists had used the commission "as a blind" behind which to illegally move jet fighters and other war materiel into North Korea.

* * *

"YOU ARE NO longer privileged to take advantage of those provisions of the armistice agreement which have been violated and frustrated by your conduct and that of the Czech and Polish members of the commission," Gard declared.

His statement was made at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission. The North Korean Communists denied Gard's accusations.

Gard, senior U. N. delegate to the armistice commission, said the Communists had never at any time since the armistice reported bringing combat aircraft into North Korea.

"This is particularly conspicuous," he asserted, "since your side now maintains in North Korea between 400 and 500 such aircraft, whereas you had none in that area at the time the armistice was signed."

Gard charged Czech and Polish officers with "fundamental perversion" of the commission, and said the U. N. Command was "entitled to take steps necessary to protect itself from the consequences of such unwarranted conduct."

North Korean Col. Lo In Hi, in denying Gard's charges, said:

"Your side has unmasked its attempt to wreck the armistice agreement. You will be held responsible for all the consequences arising from this unilateral action."

* * *

THE SUPERVISORY commission was set up by the armistice which ended the Korean fighting in 1953. There are four members of the commission—Sweden and Switzerland and the Soviet bloc nations Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The United States early this month told its Korean war allies steps should be taken soon to abolish the commission. Both the United States and South Korea have long charged that the Communist North Koreans have prevented the truce team from working effectively to check armistice violations.

Gard said the suspension of commission operations in South Korea would remain in effect until the Reds stopped illegal introduction of war material and "corrected" reports purporting to show there had been no violations.

NEW YORK (AP)— Thomas G. Daniel, convicted of manslaughter in the abortion death of his girl friend, Jacqueline Smith, is in jail today pending his sentencing on June 22.

A jury found Daniel, 25, guilty Tuesday after a three-week trial. Daniel, who came here three years ago from Warren, Ohio, faces a possible maximum penalty of 20 years in prison.

Committees Formed To Promote Formation Of Proposed City 'Y'

More progress in plans to establish a Young Men's Christian Association locally was reported today with the formation of two committees.

This action followed a meeting Tuesday between Robert Young, area YMCA secretary, and a group of interested citizens. Another meeting has been scheduled for June 6.

Ed Webb was chosen to head a steering committee. He will work with the following men already named to the group and others who will join later: George Hartman, superintendent of city schools, Ed Grigg, Erv Leist, Milton Griest, Darrell Hatfield and Robert Steele.

An appraisal committee, whose duty it is to look over possible sites for a "Y" headquarters, is headed by Hatfield. Grigg and Leist will work with Hatfield.

* * *

TAYLOR TOLD the meeting that the biggest need in this area appears to be for a recreation center for the "young adult" group, for young men and women out of high school. He said there seemed to be enough supervised recreational facilities for younger folks.

Webb, as spokesman for the body which met, said everyhting was still in the exploratory stage. He said the group "is groping for ideas."

He noted that no definite plans have been formulated, but that leaders of the idea intend to look into all possibilities and angles.

"We could use more representation, especially from the county areas," Webb pointed out. "If anyone or any group is interested, I wish they would get in touch with me.

"There are probably some women's groups who would like to voice their opinions. We would be glad to have them too."

Defective Wiring Listed As Cause Of Milk House Fire

Defective electrical wiring is blamed for starting a fire in a milk house on a Washington Township farm Wednesday, according to a sheriff's department report.

The blaze took place on the Pete Bowman farm, located on the Ringgold-Northern Rd. east of Route 22. The Circleville Fire Department was summoned and joined the sheriff's department at the scene.

The following items were listed destroyed in the milk house, which was located 15 feet from a barn: a milk cooler, a hot water tank, a water pump, four units of milking machinery, seven milk buckets, five 10-gallon milk cans, three strainers, a wash trough, a bucket rack, a sack of calf feed, a wall cabinet and a block and tackle.

There was no estimate of the damage revealed.

Ohio To Get $117,700,000 For Highways

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio stands to receive $117,700,000, maybe more, in federal funds in the next two years for construction of new superhighways.

The amount may be as much as 161 million dollars, depending on a compromise which Senate and House conferees must reach before the multi-million-dollar highway bill can be sent to the White House.

The Senate bill, passed Tuesday night, calls for the smaller amount. Ohio would get $1,059,800,000 over the 13-year period for which the program is planned. The House bill calls for $1,452,100,000 for the Buckeye state.

Whether the program will effect the Ohio Turnpike is not clear.

An official of the Bureau of Public Roads said the federal government would not be disposed to "ruin" the turnpike's business by laying a free superhighway next to it.

Ultimately, the question will be up to the Ohio Highway Department, which has before it a proposal to build a second turnpike from Conneaut to Cincinnati.

Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio) brought up the proposed turnpike in debating on the highway bill.

"I believe that highway planning experts alone can determine whether or not the north-south highway can be built most effectively as a turnpike project or a freeway," Bender said.

Presbyterians Firmly Against Racial Bars

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has adopted a report calling for total elimination of racial segregation in this country.

The report adopted yesterday at the conclusion of the assembly's 168th annual meeting was directed toward employers, homeowners and politicians.

"Nowhere in this land," said the report, "can Negroes, and to a lesser extent other minority persons escape the indignity of segregation or discrimination in one form or another."

It recommended that:

1. Christians preparing to sell their homes keep uppermost in their minds "the need of minority families for equal housing opportunities and make their houses available to all qualified purchasers regardless of race."

2. Employers take all necessary steps to "break the pattern of discrimination in employment."

3. Politicians "work for the removal of the poll tax and other restrictions which prevent many American citizens from exercising their legal rights . . ."

Benson Limits Use To Crops Not Matured

the soil bank will be established by areas in relation to crop progress, and will be announced later.

Farmers will work out their programs and sign agreements with the department's local agricultural stabilization and conservation committees, made up of fellow-farmers.

Benson said payments will go out to participating farmers as quickly as compliance can be determined and the administrative machinery set up to make the payments. Presumably, this would be late in the summer or early fall.

Benson said that the program would call for the plowing up of immature crops. While agreeing that the practice of paying farmers to plow up crops has come under criticism in the past, the secretary said he believed it could be justified as long as no mature crops were involved. He said plowing under of green, immature crops adds fertility and makes other improvements in the soil.

The secretary went over various provisions of the new farm law and said the administration was disturbed by a provision directing it to sell up to five million bales of surplus cotton abroad this year at prices which officials consider to be too low.

$26 Million Due For Vets On Unused Leaves

The federal government is holding about $26 million that it is anxious to pay out to 130,000 ex-GI's. Payment would be for Armed Forces Leave bonds since 1951.

The federal treasury suggests that money be re-invested in United States Series E Savings Bonds, which pay three per cent compounded semi-annually when held to maturity.

The $26 million is all that is left of more than $2 billion paid out to reimburse, for unused leave, those World War II veterans discharged between April, 1943 and October 1, 1946. The five-year bonds carried an interest rate of 2½ percent a year.

* * *

SPECIAL act of Congress in 1947 made the bonds redeemable prior to maturity after September 1 of that year. Some $1.5 billion were cashed within the next few months, but the remainder were held to draw additional interest. However, the last of these matured on October 1, 1951, and have drawn no interest since that date.

Now the Treasury would like to clear its books of this bond issue, and is calling on all veterans' organizations to help locate the 130,000 bond owners, who have an average holding of $200. And, the Treasury asks, since these veterans apparently don't need the money, why not put it in Series E Savings Bonds?

Ohio Women In Finals Of Sewing Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Ohio women are among 33 finalists in a $125,000 sewing contest to be staged here next month.

Mrs. Lucille F. Malecki of Fairview Park and Mrs. Forrest Conrath of Marietta will arrive in New York June 6 to compete in a public sew-off for a $25,000 grand prize.

Mrs. Malecki, mother of a 10-year-old girl, is the Cleveland regional winner, and Mrs. Conrath, mother of five, the Cincinnati regional winner.

The sew-off will be a featured attraction of the sewing fashion festival being held at the New York Coliseum June 11-17.

Each of the sewing champions, who reached the finals with a dress she made for herself, must make a dress for a professional model while participating in the sew-off.

Winners will be announced June 14. Ten awards will be made ranging from the $25,000 grand prize to $500.

Mrs. Malecki has been sewing for 28 years. She says sewing for her family, besides saving her money, gives her "the thrill of creating with my own hands." She also sews choir vestments for St. Mark's Episcopal Church. She spends an average of five hours a week at her sewing machine.

Mrs. Conrath, who spends about 10 hours a week at her machine, has been sewing for 25 years.

London Policemen Guarding Queen

LONDON (AP) — Security men with telltale pistol bulges in their raincoats mingled with cheering London crowds today as Queen Elizabeth rode on horseback through sun-drenched streets to review her troops.

Hundreds of extra police were drafted into the city from outlying provinces and plainclothes detectives moved up and down the procession route on the watchout for three Cypriot gunmen reported to have slipped into England with assassination orders. In Britain policemen usually go unarmed.

States Rights Party Reborn In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippians for States Rights, a virtual rebirth of the 1948 Democratic party split, was organized yesterday with platform based on what they termed loyalty to principle rather than to party.

About 250 cheering, applauding persons from throughout Mississippi agreed to qualify independent presidential electors in an attempt to create a foothold for bargaining with either the Republican or Democratic party for full states rights.

Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan of Jackson, a founder and keynoter of the organizational meeting, offered the hope that if 100 unpledged, independent electors voted in a bloc, they could throw the election into the House of Representatives where each state has one vote.

McGowan said Mississippians for States Rights was organized on the assumption that neither major party would nominate candidates acceptable to the South. His group, however, does not have the backing of the governors of the states involved.

Instead, the group criticized Governors J. P. Coleman of Mississippi, James Folsom of Alabama, Earl Long of Louisiana and Orval Faubus of Arkansas for what it called a lack of leadership against "federal encroachment."

Tot Struck By Car In Darby Township

A report to the sheriff's department here today said a four-year old Orient Route 1 boy was struck by a car Wednesday.

Robert Musselman was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital with a skinned arm and knee and a cut on the head, according to the report. The accident took place on Ballah Rd. in Darby Township.

Murray Arledge, 64, of Orient Route 1, reportedly said that he saw the child dart out in front of his car. He added that he almost came to a full stop when the accident happened.

Teenage Driver Slightly Injured

Darwin Fultz, 17, of Mt. Sterling Route 1, was slightly injured when his car went out of control on a gravel road just past midnight Wednesday.

The accident took place on the Yankeetown-Waterloo Rd. in the extreme western part of Pickaway County. Fultz suffered a lacerated hand and lip, and a bruised knee.

He told the sheriff's department his brakes failed to hold.

And What Next? Mink Caught In Flower Shop

Mrs. Lois Wadlington, bookkeeper at Brehmer's Greenhouse on N. Court St., saw a good many customers come and go Tuesday in the rush for Memorial Day flowers.

But she did a double-take in particular when one stranger darted in the front door and stood wiggling his tail. In fact she stared at the animal and (he, she or it) stared back at her.

The little beast came nearer. Mrs. Wadlington, who decided it wasn't a rat or a mouse after all, took a precautionary step backward. And simultaneously she let it be known that funny things were happening on the premises.

In no time at all, the animal—perhaps 6 or 7 inches long when "stretched out" — was cornered and held for Pickaway County Game Protector Clarence Francis. And he confirmed what bystanders had already said.

* * *

IT SEEMED to be a baby mink—one of those very valuable little slicksters which, in numbers, can get you an elegant fur coat.

Francis said he does not know of anyone raising minks hereabouts. And that leaves the mystery waiting:

Parma Girl Falls Into Deep Ravine

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 17-year-old girl fell 100 feet into a ravine in suburban Parma last night, but suffered only minor injuries.

Eileen McGloin, who was helping her family move into a new house, had walked to the brink of the ravine to look at the scenery. A tree branch she was holding broke and she fell, landing on soft grass. Firemen rescued her with ropes and ladders.

June Slated To Be Exciting For Business

Month Due To Open With Idle Pay Plan; Strike May Close It

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — When June comes bursting out all over Friday it ought to start an exciting 30 days for business.

The month opens with a test of the new layoff pay plan for auto workers — now idle in large numbers. The month will close with a showdown on the threat of a strike that now hangs over the steel industry.

All this comes on the heels of a spring that suffered from a split personality.

Part of the economy went booming right along and many a business and many an employe felt that times were good indeed. But the soft spots kept getting softer.

As June starts there's considerable dispute as to which will get the upper hand. Will weakness spread from industry to industry? or will the hard spots in the economy pull the rest up to them in time?

June will see college graduates going to opportunities that seem fabulous to the depression generation. Industry competes for their services where 20 years ago the graduate searched hard for any job. Now they will start off making as much in a week as the older generation made in a month.

June will see retailers doing their best to work up love and tangible affection for dad on Father's Day. Presents for the June bride, merchants hope, will be more generous than ever — and also for the crop of graduates.

But all won't be roses. The business world is at the name calling stage in the dispute over monetary policy — should money be cheap and credit easy or tight and interest rates high? Some think June will see a turning point in money management.

But most eyes will be on Detroit and Pittsburgh as the month starts. Friday auto workers laid off in May, or to be laid off hereafter, will be eligible for supplemental unemployment benefits. In and out of the industry people will be interested in how it works out; how long the trust funds will last; how the laid off workers will take it if the extra payments aren't as large as they expected. And the nation will watch to see if the auto slowdown spreads further.

Monday the unions and the steel executives started bargaining. The month will tell whether there's a strike, a "reasonable" contract, or a new wage scale and price hike large enough to start an inflationary spiral in other industries.

There may be a lot of rare days this June.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A large crop of chickens landed in the nation's food stores this week, making fryers the most widely offered special for the weekend.

Housewives will find the birds priced lower than last week in most sections of the country, although local supply conditions could hold prices firm or even higher in some areas.

There was a variety of other meats on special sale, but no particular pattern prevailed throughout the country. Rising wholesale prices for meats in the past few weeks have forced retailers to look hard for specials and what they find varies widely.

Beef cuts held firm on wholesale markets this week. Lamb was scarce and showed no sign of giving up the strong advances made in recent weeks. Pork went higher and is now close to levels at which it sold a year ago.

Local farms continued to supply the outstanding buys on vegetable counters. These were chiefly radishes, spinach, green onions and various types of lettuce.

Good buys included celery, carrots, corn and beans.

Thief Steals Suit Belonging To Cop

DALLAS (AP)—Note to the thief who stole a size 43 suit from the Main Street Cleaners:

That charcoal colored suit may get uncomfortably hot for wear on Dallas streets and not just because it is flannel.

Tractor Thief, 14, Slated For Hearing

ZANESVILLE (AP)—A 14-year-old Muskingum County boy, accused of stealing a Washington County farmer's tractor last week, is in the custody of his parents today, awaiting a hearing before Juvenile Judge Holland M. Gary.

The boy was captured in Logan, W. Va., two days after the farmer, Frank Stacy, of Marietta, reported his tractor missing.

The head of a committee is called a chairman because, in the old days, chairs were rare and only the leaders could sit in them.

Water Skier, 32, Swept To Death Over High Falls

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The swift-running Snake River swept a water skier over the brink of 212-foot Shsohone Falls Wednesday as outlookers taking the Memorial Day sun watched in horror from the shore.

Still missing today was the body of 32-year-old Melvin W. Hulbert of Boise, Idaho.

Witnesses said Hulbert lost his balance and fell into the water of a lagoon about 1,000 yards upstream from the falls, one of the highest cataracts in the west. He splashed around in the water, apparently unconcerned, while the current edged him ever closer to the lip of the falls.

"About 200 feet from the falls he seemed to realize he was in trouble," one witness said. The boat which had been towing him and another craft made desperate, dangerous last-minute passes in an attempt to rescue him almost at the brink.

DECLINE OF HANDWRITING

DURING RECENT months controversy has raged over modern methods of teaching reading in public schools. "Why can't Mary read?" is asked by the parents. And the teachers answer that she can read and she reads well for her age.

But, if Mary can read, equally important is the question, "Can Mary write?"

A metropolitan business school which gives private tutoring in shorthand and office procedure gets requests for handwriting instruction regularly.

And a third school, where good penmanship is thought to be a prerequisite for job placement, is considering adding a penmanship course to its curricula because many adept students never even succeed in getting an interview with a prospective employer because of the poor impression created in filling out an application blank.

Many businessmen lament that fine penmanship is rare and handwriting is becoming a lost art. They know the situation well. One department store spokesman says, "Everyday we have examples of packages that have to be traced or bills that have to be adjusted because of popr writing."

Handwriting is a tool for communication and by the time a student reaches high school he should attain a standard quality of writing. But at that point writing usually gets progressively worse with age. There are long assignments to prepare and students in their haste make incomplete letters and leave words poorly spaced. Thus illegibility is born and grows.

These students later become living headaches in some business office—or at home, where the milkman has a difficult time deciphering the housewife's messages left in empty bottles.

These individuals not only have a difficult time reading someone else's scrawly script, they often cannot read their own handwriting.

TRADING STAMP GAINS

THE BRITISH have their lottery but Americans, who constitutionally swore off such things generations ago, have trading stamps. The two aren't exactly the same but have a kinship in the hope of prize gains.

That trading stamps, by which the consumer is entitled to free merchandise and other premium items, are growing rapidly is statistically evident. Industry estimates place the volume of trading stamps at $212 million per year. But an Indiana University researcher places the volume at $650 to $805 million per year.

This growth comes despite the opposition of retailers who claim that trading stamps are an indirect and perhaps illegal way of giving customers discounts.

Last year the legislatures of 24 states tried to put a crimp in trading stamps. Most of the proposals failed because the device is thought to be popular. In only three states are the stamps outlawed. But the Federal Trade Commission has started an investigation to determine the legality or illegality of stamps. Some merchants are appealing to consumers on grounds that they pay for the stamps in higher prices.

But opposition is said to be weakening. Barring federal action of nation-wide force, the trading stamp seems to be going places. Whether government - sanctioned lotteries by popular demand will follow in the fullness of time is anybody's guess.

These Days

I got talking to a window washer — you know, a fellow who stands on a window ledge a dozen or two stories above the street, hooked on to a leather strap, washing windows, hopping from window ledge to window ledge, and causing a sensitive person to look away for fear that he might drop.

This was a rather good-looking fellow who somehow made one feel that he ought to be in an office. I asked a girl in my office why she thought he risked his life washing windows and she was sure it was for the pay. But how much pay could he get? I doubted whether he was paid as much as the young lady.

So we finally got the story. The fellow had been in the Marines. And he went to college and learned some kind of stuff under the G.I. Bill of Rights which required him to work indoors, at a desk, in an office. It made him nervous.

He could not eat. He could not sleep nights. He smoked too much. He became a nervous wreck. Inside work was not for an ex-Marine.

So he got a job as a window washer and he lost all his nervousness. He can stand on a ledge, 20 stories or more above the sidewalk, washing a window and he feels fine.

He now eats well. He sleeps well. Everything is O. K.

So it only goes to show that what is one man's meat is another man's poison and that nobody can set up rules that hold for everybody. That is one of the troubles with the world today. Every government is trying to fit all its people into molds.

For instance, even in this country, we now have a propaganda to turn out more scientists and engineers and the college boys are being majored and minored until they get not an education but a training which is a very different thing.

That jockey, Bill Pearson, on "The $64,000 Question," seems to me to be an educated man, but I have met many important engineers and scientists and businessmen who are regarded as wonders in their fields but who know no history, no art, no philosophy, no music. In a word, they have lived long and prosperously but without education. They have college degrees but no culture.

Perhaps we need to become a nation of chess players to develop realistic, competent minds that can think beyond the advertiser's slogans to the components of a problem and the facts that challenge human conduct.

In a word, here we face a coldly statistical fact that two nations, Soviet Russia and Red China, which were of slight significance a decade ago, now are strong enough to challenge our existence and we still live in a realm of rocknroll concepts. It is not only scientists and engineers that we need but men of independent thought and imaginative action. We need more educated men and women who can think for the doers.

CHAPTER 35

THE AMBULANCE from the Good Heart Hospital didn't arrive until the afternoon. The native driver had gone early in the morning up to the main road, stopped a car and got to a telephone. He seemed to have recovered completely not only from the slight concussion he'd sustained, but he seemed to have forgotten his vision of the three-legged calf.

The little priest made them drinkable coffee, baked breadfruit, and brought them in a bunch of red, tree-ripened bananas. Bruce and Val took turns in staying with Cynthia, who was slowly regaining consciousness.

It was with a deep feeling of relief that Val saw the two colored orderlies with a stretcher thread their way through the thick forest of trees toward the hut.

The newly-built hospital was a gracious-looking white structure on a hillside overlooking Montego Bay. Darkness was falling by the time they reached it, but the night was still and peaceful and the moon was rising. Cynthia's father had got out of a sick bed to await the arrival of the ambulance and stood in the foyer with the matron watching the stretcher on which his daughter lay being carried into a private ward. Afterwards he wrung Bruce's hand and thanked him brokenly for having saved his daughter's life.

"If you hadn't been in that car, Harridan, I dread to think what would have happened to Cynthia," he said earnestly. "You saved my little girl's life—and she's everything in the world to me."

Bruce said modestly that he'd done what any other surgeon would have done, and together the two men and the matron went down the long corridor into the private room which had been prepared for the patient. Val found herself alone in the reception hall where one of the ambulance drivers had dumped her luggage. No one had told her where her room was; no one, in fact, had paid any attention to her since the ambulance had arrived. But she was too tired, too sick at heart, to care. She sank down on a chair and rested her head against the high carved back, content to wait, content for the moment not to have to think.

She had closed her eyes when she was aroused by a voice, with a faint trace of a Scottish burr lingering in it, saying:

"I'm sorry you've been left on your own, Sister Alison. It was very remiss of me, but I've been helping them get Miss Felton settled and introducing Doctor Harridan to Doctor Munsey, who will be in charge of Miss Felton tonight."

"It's quite all right, Matron." Val smiled and got to her feet. "I must have dropped off to sleep. I suppose I'm tired."

"You have every right to be tired," the matron said sympathetically. "Doctor Harridan has been telling me what a wonderful help you were to him. Would you like to go to your room now and have your supper in bed, or will you join us in the dining room so that I can introduce you to your colleagues?"

The short nap must have refreshed Val for she no longer felt so tired. "I'd like to have supper in the dining room, Matron, if I may." She smiled again and added, "But I certainly need to bathe and change my clothes first."

"Come along, I'll show you your room. One of the orderlies will bring your luggage along, and perhaps after supper you'll come into my apartment and have a cup of tea and a chat. That is, of course, if you're not too tired, Sister."

Val smiled back at her gratefully. "I'm sure I shan't be too tired, and thank you, Matron."

The bedroom assigned to her was a small, pleasant room, and its large window looked down over the fashionable tourist resort of Montego Bay. She opened the window wide and looked out. She saw the still waters of the bay, blue steel in the moonlight, the circle of lights along the front and the more brilliant lights of the fashionable tourist hotels.

Val unpacked a few things and went along the corridor to the door where the matron had indicated she could take a bath. Presently, dressed in a cool cotton dress, she entered the dining room shyly, for meeting one's colleagues in any new job is always an ordeal. But the matron came forward to meet her and took her under her wing.

The food was good, a combination of European and Jamaican cooking. After supper bowls of tropical fruit were passed around, peeled oranges encrusted with ice, mangoes, custard apples, sliced pineapples and small red bananas.

The matron had a pleasant two-room apartment in one of the wings of the building, furnished with hand-tooled furniture of Jamaican woods. She smiled down at Val as she carried the tea tray back into the sitting room.

"Are you feeling any better?" The matron looked in a kindly way down into the girl's pale, strained face.

"Yes, much better, thank you, Matron," Val said, and added anxiously, "Is Miss Felton still resting comfortably? The trip across in the ambulance hasn't set her back?"

"We feel confident she's off the danger list. Doctor Munsey, a brilliant young surgeon by the way, and one of our own islanders, is looking after her. Cynthia's father, Professor Felton, is so reassured he has gone home with Doctor Harridan, whom he has invited to spend the night with him. The Feltons have a lovely villa on the other side of the bay. It's very quiet and restful there."

Val tried to hide the bleak feeling that came over her. Bruce had gone off, without saying a word to her. It was conceivable he might have thought she was resting when he left, but surely he could have written a note? She had sensed during their talk on the ramshackle porch this morning that he too was uncertain in his mind about many things.

DIET AND HEALTH

Quick Action Needed In Case Of Poisoning

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WEED killers and other gardening poisons can be found in most homes this time of the year.

These are just one group of poisons which you must protect your children against. Sleeping drugs are another—and there are many more.

Quick action is essential in any case of accidental poisoning. Labels of most poisons contain instructions for administering antidotes. Read the label even before you open the container—just to be prepared.

Some Steps

Here are some steps you should follow even before you take the time to find an antidote.

If someone in your home should swallow an overdose of any sleeping drug or liquor, or take any gardening or vermin extermination poison, iodine, arsenic, strychnine, kerosene, wood or denatured alcohol, here's what you should do until the doctor arrives:

1—Force him to swallow large quantities of water containing baking soda or soapsuds (not detergent suds). If no soda or soap is immediately handy, make him drink a lot of lukewarm tap water. This helps to dilute the poison as well as induce vomiting.

2—Make the patient vomit repeatedly until the fluid is as clear as when it was swallowed.

3—Give him a dose of epsom salts—a glass of water containing one heaping teaspoonful.

4—Then give him any antidote which might be on the label of the bottle which contained the poison swallowed.

Sleeping Drugs

One more word about sleeping drugs.

If the patient has taken an overdose of one of them, you should continue treatment after following the above procedures by giving him strong black coffee in easy doses. But be careful not to exhaust him.

Don't give coffee or any other stimulant to anyone who has swallowed strychnine.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. G.: What causes brown spots on the skin and what can be done for them?

Answer: Brown spots are due to excessive pigmentation. Often these spots may be bleached out by the use of such ointment as ammoniated mercury.

However, this should be done by a physician since there is danger in the use of bleaching ointments.

Try, Stop Me

Servant problems are pressing the country over, but Las Vegas housewives (sure, there are some!) have something extra to contend with. One of them told a new cook to dice some beets for dinner. Two hours later the cook reported, "Ma'am, cutting up them beets was no trouble at all, but putting all those black dots on them is plumb driving me crazy."

Author Harry Kurnitz achieved the impossible: he happened upon a restaurant in Paris where the food was positively terrible. What's more, the waiter cheerfully admitted the fact. "Monsieur would be wise," he whispered, "to get out of here fast. There's a really fine little restaurant right across the boulevard."

"Are you sure?" asked Kurnitz. "Sure? Certainement," said the waiter vehemently. "I own it." Then he added, "This miserable place is where I find my customers."

He Rides Through Rainbows --By Hal Boyle

SYLVA, N. C. (AP)—Many men who dream a big dream and make it come true learn to their surprise that it isn't what they really wanted after all.

But what can they do? Most remain embittered prisoners of a phantom success they no longer enjoy but are afraid to give up.

It takes a good man to give up his hard-won position at the peak and fight back down the rocky road he has traveled in order to regain something finer he lost earlier on the way up.

John's ancestors journeyed from the coastal plain into the mountains of western North Carolina along rude horse and oxen paths shortly after the American Revolution, and the family has put its roots down pretty deep here since then.

But John, who became a reporter at 13 and never encumbered his mind with college lumber, got a yearning for the far places. Like most small town newspapermen, he dreamed of becoming a top byline writer in the big city.

He did. Before he was 23 he was writing daily feature articles out of New York for a news agency.

But more distant fields called. John went to London during the blitz raids. He landed as a war correspondent with the initial Allied forces that invaded Africa on Nov. 8, 1942.

After the war, John returned to New York, became a diplomatic correspondent for the Associated Press and covered the birth and development of the United Nations. He scored a number of notable beats. Covering the homburg hat set and its intrigues was heady, exciting, important. Yet something, he didn't know what, was missing.

In 1946 he met and within five weeks married Dorothy Luxton, a pretty art teacher from Topeka, Kan. But he had the forethought to tell her when he proposed:

"Honey, you may have to learn to use a double-bitted ax to cut up wood to keep a fire going."

Soon after, his father, a jeweler here, died, and John took a leave of absence to come down and settle the estate.

"Almost as soon as I got here," he recalled, "I realized what was missing in my life. It was a kind of happiness I had known in the hills, and hadn't been able to find anywhere else."

It took a lot of courage for John to resign his job as a diplomatic correspondent at the United Nations and start his career all over in his old home town. It took a lot of understanding on his wife's part to back him. But she did.

It wasn't easy. John spent two years on a novel that didn't quite come off, but, as he says, "may yet."

But in 1950 he began promoting "Unto These Hills," a pioneer outdoor drama of the Cherokee Indians that this year may draw its millionth spectator. On top of this and some magazine writing chores John started writing a column called "Roaming the Hills" for the Asheville Citizen.

It spread faster than the rhododendron does in June. A book of his collected vignettes of mountain people and old mountain customs recently sold out a first edition printing of 10,000 copies in a few weeks. More books are in prospect.

Everywhere John goes in the mountains he is recognized and welcomed. He purrs his Cadillac 200 to 300 miles on an average day, and may ride through four rainbows. He never drove through a single rainbow on his way to work at the United Nations.

Approximately 100 Attend 'Circus' Of Family Circle

Performance Held In Lutheran Parish

Approximately 100 members and guests of the Family Circle of Trinity Lutheran Church attended a "circus" held in the church.

The lunch committee composed of: Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hammel, Mrs. Grace Walters and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Eberly, decorated the tables in the circus theme with animal crackers and balloons set at each place.

The parade which introduced the program was led by the band, which included: Ronnie Melvin, Johnny Troutman, the Rev. Carl Zehner, Mr. Ray Johnson, Mr. Walter Pickel and Mr. Eberly. Also marching in the parade were: trained dogs, stuffed "wild" animals, trained "seals" and other circus oddities.

During the circus performance, Larry Steinhauser exhibited his ability as a sharp-shooter, Delvin Smith portrayed the strong man, Norma Ruth and David Troutman charmed "snakes" and Ray and Yvonne Johnson did a mind reading stunt.

The program was supervised by Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman and Mr. and Mrs. Delvin Smith.

—ROTHMAN'S BETTER DRESSES IN THE WOMEN'S ANNEX

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl of 20, a shy, lonely and quiet type of person. I have a problem. At a dance I met a young man about a year older than I. Bert is a nice, polite and gay type of person and I liked him right away. We went out together several times.

On our last two dates I knew I liked him very much and I showed affection for him, which I realize now I shouldn't have done.

On our last date we went to a show; and after coming home, we sat in the car and talked for a while. Then we started to neck and didn't realize the passing of time. My mother is a strict person and I was supposed to be home by midnight. All of a sudden it was 2 a. m.

My mother was worried and came out looking for us, and found we had been sitting in the car since midnight. I was ashamed of myself. Bert took the blame for our being so late; but it was my fault, as I had wanted love from someone.

Bert walked me to the door, where my mother was waiting, and she slapped me in front of him. Bert has never been back since that night, and when I do see him he avoids me and looks the other way. What can I do?

K. Y.

DEAR K. Y.: In all probability it wasn't your love-seeking with Bert, on the evening of your last date together that scared him away. Rather, I think it was your mother's angry slapping of you, in his presence, that caused him to quit the scene with a sense of shame and distress—and lingering distaste for the whole episode.

If you were wrong in sitting in the car after midnight, to court a necking session with Bert, he was equally wrong in following your lead. He might have said in effect (as socially savvy boys sometimes do say to girls they like): "Look, you'd better go in; it's not right for you to be sitting out here; the neighbors will talk; your parents won't like it," etc. And such boys do call a halt right there.

As for your mother's attitude, I think she was wrong, too, in her specific reaction to your display of poor judgment that evening. She was catering only to her own upset feelings. She wasn't considering your growth needs and overall difficulties.

What to do? Don't pursue the subject with Bert. Get expert help, from a clergyman, psychologist or family relations counsellor, in overcoming your outcast loneliness and timidity. Then your behavior and experiences with boys will be different.

Postmaster Seeks Writer Of Letter Sent 'Care Of God'

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Postmaster H. Wayne Parker still hasn't located "Mickey," who wrote a touching letter to "Mommy, care of God, Heaven," but stacks of mail and at least one $25 check are waiting.

Mickey's unstamped letter found its way to Parker's desk May 17. News reports of the letter touched off a flood of answering mail. A check came for "Mickey" from a banker in Elmore City, Okla., who said: "This little girl must not lose her faith."

Mickey's letter bore no return address or last name.

"Dear Mommy, I miss you very much since you went to live with God. I hope you're happy. I'm lonesome without you and Daddy since you have gone away. Please tell God to help me be good so I can come to heaven by you. Love, your baby girl, Mickey."

Ike Respected By Red China Chief

BOSTON (AP) — Red China Premier Chou En-lai has been quoted as expressing "high regard" for President Eisenhower as a "force for peace."

Miss Edith Wall, traveling companion of Indian Health Minister (Princess) Amrit Kaur, said Chou made the comment to the princess in the form of a "factual statement" in October 1955 while President Eisenhower was recovering from a heart attack.

Miss Wall said the princess repeated the statement to the President Tuesday.

Mary Pickford Knicked By Bullet

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mary Pickford, sweetheart of the silent screen, has disclosed that a bullet grazed her head when a pistol was accidentally discharged.

The former actress made light of an incident she said took place Saturday night as she and her husband, producer Buddy Rogers, were returning home with Marion Davies and the latter's husband, Capt. Horace Brown.

Miss Pickford said that Brown, formerly of the Merchant Marine, was showing his pistol to Rogers when he slipped in a spot of oil in the driveway.

The gun discharged, she reported, and the bullet ricocheted from the driveway to her forehead. A doctor treated Miss Pickford for a slight abrasion.

Sokolsky's

Teachers and professors are very touchy people and they get very excited if one criticizes their realms. But the question at issue is what has happened to that brilliant, initiating, competent, go-getting American mind that developed our great industrial base not by the routines of unimaginative, over-organized, apple-polishing management that concerns itself principally with security and seniority and fringe benefits, but that took chances and risks and built a private, personal fortune to be used at will and left after death to a family? There was ambition in that process and a tremendous excitement over life.

The window washer who left the fringe benefits of an office to stand on a ledge and wash windows because that is what he wants to do seems to me to be a smart man who is doing what he chooses to do, for himself and for his own satisfaction. He will not die of ulcers or a nervous breakdown even if he never gets any fringe benefits. He has the courage of his convictions and risks his neck for them which he finds a more interesting life experience than shining his trousers on a swivel chair waiting for a pension.

And after the pension—what comes? Surely after retirement and a pension either come another job of work or decay and death.

Mash ripe bananas fine and mix with maple syrup and milk for a cool beverage your children will enjoy.

Bender Evokes Some Laughs, Blames Lausche For Roads

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) took the Senate floor this week to criticize his November election rival, Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche for what Bender called Ohio's "poor highways."

Bender's remarks came as he addressed the Senate in support of a multi-billion-dollar highway program.

At one point, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), smiling broadly, asked Bender whether Lausche is running for senator. Bender retorted:

"He is running for President of the United States, for vice president, for senator and I don't know that else he could run for."

Bender's remarks also took up a proposal for a north-south Ohio turnpike from Conneaut to Cincinnati. Chiding the Lausche administration for what he called delays in deciding on this project, Bender asserted:

"I believe that highway planning experts can determine whether or not the north-south highway can be built most efficiently as a turnpike or a freeway. It does not take an expert to determine that it ought to be built before the automobile becomes obsolete."

Bender declared the federal government wants to help Ohio build more and better roads. But, he said, a good deal of responsibility rests on Ohio, too. He told the Senate:

"If the state's chief executive refuses to accept the responsibility vested him by his office, the people should know exactly where the fault lies.

Parking Meter Foe Handed Warrant

A leading opponent of parking meters here, Moser was served with a warrant for failing to pay eight parking tickets.

New Book On "Flying Saucers" Puts Believers Far Out On Limb

One of the latest in the flood of "flying saucer" books, less than a month off the press, contributes at least one definite step to the recurrent agitation over strange objects—or things that look like strange objects—in the sky.

"They Knew Too Much About Flying Saucers", by Gray Barker, may spend most of its pages going "around Joe's Barn" with a story that gets amazingly disconnected. And it may give far too much space to dialogues and descriptions that are strictly so-what, as far as getting to the point is concerned.

But one thing is for sure.

The book will push the all-out believers farther out on a limb than they've ever been before. We have heard about some of the more fantastic beliefs of the blindly faithful in the "saucer" cult, but this is the first time we have found a first class variety of mighty strange assertions inside the covers of a book.

* * *

ALL OF WHICH, let it be remembered, may serve a good purpose, even though its goes around end to do it. "They Knew Too Much About Flying Saucers" will undoubtedly help keep alive talk of the flying discs, and at a time when they seem to have been fading a bit from the daily run of news.

Even the author himself, in perhaps the most commendable point of the whole book, declares his belief that most of the "saucer" stories are "bunk". But Barker goes on to unfold his wild and wandering accounts to emphasize, apparently, that somewhere beyond the hysteria and hoakum—buried somewhere beneath the comical baloney sold and circulated in the name of "saucer mystery" stuff—is a steady, clear-minded and logical spark that glows brightly through discussions on the subject.

And that is that ALL of the phenomena cannot be explained away as light reflection, freak atmospheric conditions, weather balloons, the planet Venus, imagination, indigestion, and what not. A Circleville high school teacher said it mighty well sometime ago when he pointed out how foolish it is for us to judge and try to measure the "saucer" mystery solely by earthbound standards and know-how.

There is no better illustration of the conceit with which we as humans are too often inclined to gaze upon all else in the sphere of our existence. Deep in our hearts, a lot of us are certain we know all the answers—and every now and then we like to show it.

We're glad that "They Knew Too Much About Flying Saucers" touched, even though lightly, upon that truth. Because otherwise, it contains ever so much that serious "saucerites" just won't accept without reactions ranging from wide grins to snorts of disapproval.

* * *

BARKER, A businessman and educator who says he used to laugh at "saucer" reports until he ran into the awful truth, opens his story with various accounts of a "monster" allegedly seen on a dark West Virginia hillside.

The "monster" scared dogs, spit fire, loomed 10 feet tall "with a bright green body and a blood-red face", scared the daylights out of seven eyewitnesses, and gave off an odor like the smell of burning metal. It caused no end of excitement.

There is a good bit more about the West Virginia incident, but the story goes on—eventually—to its main shocker: how certain men happened to discover the secret of the "saucers" and were hushed into nervous clams by three guys who wore black suits!

And oh yes, before you get to the trio in dark garb, you can read about the little man who got out of a saucer, according to witnesses who "were not drinking men", to dip water from a California creek with a bucket!

Then, after you've read almost to the end, you can also dwell upon the theory said to be held by one Richard S. Shaver. He believes, the author writes, that a degenerate race of people inhabits caverns deep inside the earth on which we live.

Wow! Are They Democrats of Republicans?

WASHINGTON (AP)—"You did it when we weren't looking."

That is the complaint some senators made against the rest of the Senate for inserting—in the new superhighway program — a few sentences which, if they stand, may cause confusion for years.

It is true some weren't looking. Some weren't listening either. And some weren't there.

The Senate debated Monday, and 14 hours Tuesday, before approving a bill to create over the next 13 years a 40,000-mile network of superhighways costing the federal government about 25 billion dollars and the states about 2 billions.

Since the federal government will pay most of the bill, Sen. Chavez (D-NM) proposed the government should decide the wage rates for men who build the network. He said the secretary of labor should do the deciding.

This wasn't unusual. Under a law passed in 1931 the labor secretary decides wage rates for workers on projects paid for by the government. This applies to contracts for direct federal construction as well as to contracts for schools, hospitals, housing, airports and other facilities built with federal-aid funds.

The secretary decides what the prevailing rate is in the area for the same kind of work—in this case it would be roadbuilding—and says that should be the wage rate for the highway builder.

There were a lot of objections, particularly from Southern Democrats, including Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark).

Their arguments, boiled down, ran like this: What area would the secretary select as a yardstick? An area close to where a strip of highway is to be built or some city 100 miles away where wages might be higher? What would happen to the economy of a rural area if the secretary fixed wage rates for roadbuilders out of line with wages paid nearby farmhands? Would they quit the farms to work on the roads?

Besides, so the arguments went, the labor secretary shouldn't have final say. The states—this was the states' rights argument — should have a voice in deciding rates.

Fulbright suggested it might be well to let anyone who disagreed with the labor secretary appeal to the courts. Opponents argued this might foul up the whole highway program, get it snarled in court fights all over the United States for years.

The Senate finally approved Chavez's idea: the labor secretary should decide the rates. But it was a day of confusion on the floor. And just about dinner time Fulbright got up again, proposing as an amendment to Chavez's proposal that anyone disagreeing with the secretary's wage rates could appeal to the courts.

The Senate quickly voted for this. Sometime later Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), an opponent of Fulbright's amendment, realized what had happened. He asked the Senate to reconsider.

He hadn't heard the amendment read, he said, because there was too much disorder on the floor at the time.

He said he doubted many senators knew what they were voting for. Sen. Morse (D-Ore) said he didn't know about it because he was out to dinner. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said he didn't realize it either. His back was turned at the time, he said.

The Senate let the Fulbright amendment stand. But the Senate bill differs from a similar measure passed by the House which said the labor secretary should decide wage rates but didn't provide for any appeal to the courts.

There can be no highway law until both houses iron out their differences. The Senate may bow to the House and agree to drop the Fulbright amendment.

Strike Idleness In Nation Hits 1952 High Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that strike idleness was higher during the first four months of this year than for any comparable period since 1952.

About 7,700,000 man days of working time were lost from January through April, the Labor Department said. The comparable figure for last year was 5,410,000 man days, that for 1954 was 4,610,000 and that for 1953 was 6,400,000. In January-April 1952, strike idleness amounted to 9,680,000 man days—the time of one man for one day.

The department said last month saw 450 strikes in effect, idling 210,000 workers for an aggregate of 1½ million man days. This compared with 350 stoppages involving 175,000 workers for two million lost man days in March.

Old Age Pensioners Slated For Better Setup On July 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislation designed to assure old age pensioners of the medical, hospital and nursing care they require becomes effective July 1.

The new law lifts the present $200 ceiling on payments for such care and leaves it up to the state to determine the sums needed.

Officials said the current limit has been woefully inadequate for many Ohioans receiving old age assistance. They said the change would permit transfer to hospitals and rest homes of many aged persons requiring such care.

Counties have been drawing on their poor relief funds to pay for care that exceeds the $200 limit when the money was available. But several counties have lacked money for supplemental payments, leaving some of their aged residents without proper care, officials reported.

Numerous counties have said they will halt supplemental payments after the new law goes into effect. That poses a very real problem for the state welfare department, says Director Henry J. Robison.

He has asked the state controlling board for the permission required under the new law to establish a "pool fund" out of which medical, hospital and nurshing care would be paid by the state on the basis of need.

Robison estimates that the fund should approximate seven million dollars a year. He expects the federal government to reimburse the state for about a million dollars of such expenditures annually.

The director's request for a four million dollar medical payment fund for the last half of the year is under study by the board. Robinson suggests that the money could be advanced from the 66 million dollars appropriated to the Division of Aid for the Aged for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

But he said that would not leave enough money for old age pensions and division operations during the entire fiscal year. Replacement of the money for pensions would be up to the Legislature meeting next January if the board approves.

Robison said appropriations of more than 70 millions for the current bookkeeping year are adequate for pensions and division operations. He estimated the smaller appropriation for the next fiscal year might fall about a miollin dollars short of pension and division operating costs without provision for the medical care fund.

Some 98,000 Ohioans now are receiving old age pensions. About one-third of those also require medical, hospital or nursing care. The pension maximum is $65 a month but payments average slightly below $56. The medical allowance is in addition to monthly benefits.

"The present $200 allowance for that does not begin to pay the bill," Robison said. "When that sum is inadequate, county welfare departments draw on poor relief funds for supplementation."

Robison said he recently received letters from more than half of the 88 county welfare departments in the state and from the County Commissioners' Assn.

"All of the letters state that the counties will assume no responsibility for supplementing old age assistance after July 1," Robison told the controlling board.

3 Ohio Postal Units Being Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Post offices in Warren, Youngstown and Cleveland are being inspected today by staff investigators of a House Government Operations subcommittee.

An aide said they want to discover whether the post office department violated regulations in purchasing vehciles from Twin Coach Co., Kent, Ohio.

The vehicles were purchased on an experimental basis and include "standup trucks," in which the driver stands.

Comanche Chief's Widow Visits Grave

CACHE, Okla. (AP) — Quanah Parker was remembered Wednesday by Topay, the last surviving widow of the famed Comanche Indian chief.

The old and crippled Indian woman visited Parker's grave and said she is "looking forward to joining him." The great chief died 45 years ago, but Topay, the last of his eight wives, has lost track of her age. She admits to having married Parker when she was 25.

Star Farmers To Be Given FFA Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Elson J. Cassidy, 17, of Rt. 3, Minerva, will be honored tonight as Ohio's "star state farmer" of 1956.

He will receive the award at the annual banquet of the Ohio chapter of the Future Farmers of America (FFA), a highlight of the two-day convention which ends Friday.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, an honorary FFA member, will address the gathering.

Agricultural judging contests and election of officers are on Friday's agenda, with more than 2,000 delegates expected.

Cassidy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cassidy of near Louisville. The youth handles his father's 93-acre farm and 140 rented acres.

He has farming investments of about $8,000, including 14 registered Holstein cows.

Plenty Of Spilled Milk To Cry Over

DANVERS, Mass. (AP) — There was plenty of spilled milk to cry over on the Newburyport turnpike —3,500 gallons to be exact.

Truck driver Jesse Bolles, 48, veered his tank truck to avoid a car and the truck, Boston-bound with 3,500 gallons of Maine milk, jackknifed and overturned.

Bolles and his son, Paul, 12, escaped with bruises but holiday traffic on the busy turnpike was held up nearly four hours while firefighters washed the milk from the highway.

Idle Pay Claims Showing Increase

COLUMBUS (AP)—New claimants for unemployment compensation increased to 7,795 in the week ended May 26, the state bureau of unemployment compensation reports. Claimants for the previous week totaled 7,408.

The BUC said old claimants, those unemployed one week or more, dropped from 46,171 to 45,420 in the two-week period.

The average number of new claimants in May 1955 was 6,462 and old claimants 45,341.

County's New Photostat Machine Expected To Do Big Task

Reproduction Uses Principle Of Photography

Print Appears Like Snapshot Negative After Processing

Pickaway County's photostating machine, located in the basement of the court house, is an ominous looking piece of equipment at first glance—but county officials agree that the machine will accomplish a monumental task for the taxpayer's benefit.

The print actually looks like the negative of a snapshot. That is, black writing on the original document now appears white, and the white background of the paper now is black.

Preparatory to being photostated, papers are divided into various classes—such as deeds, mortgages, etc. Raised letters or seals are brushed over with a ball of cheesecloth which has been rubbed on a carbon block. Gold seals are dusted with talcum powder.

* * *

THESE THINGS are done so that the symbols will photograph clearly.

When the papers have been divided into their respective classes, they are then stamped with the book and page number. Odd numbers are placed in the upper right corner of the page, even numbers to the left. However, numbers are sometimes placed in the middle of the top edge of the page.

By stamping the book and page numbers on the original document, the photograph will show the same number, and the owner will know with certainty its place in the record.

The papers are next placed in correct numerical order of book and page number, and are then ready for copying.

For loose leaf binders, the sheets are punched to fit the binding posts. Then, they are placed in a large lever or power cutter and the three outside margins are trimmed. After trimming, the sheets are placed in the binders.

* * *

ONE PRINT (two pages) per minute can be produced. Mechanical focusing provides the opportunity to make prints from 70 to 120 percent of the original size of the document being photostated.

All the operator does is place the document to be photostated in the holder, presses a button for the exposure and waits until a pre-set electric timer rings. All the rest is done by the machine.

Another advantage to the machine, in addition to being able to record documents efficiently instead of having them copied by hand, is that additional copies of an original document may be made if the occasion should arise.

Lausche Sees Peace If Free Men Rule

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche says "peace will be attained in the world only when tyrants are brought to their knees and free men rule".

The governor spoke at a Memorial Day service in the little 137-year-old Hickory Flat cemetery, five miles north of here. Several hundred persons attended the ceremony at which a veterans' memorial was dedicated.

Declaring that "patriotism is not old-fashioned," the governor said:

'We must realize the full meaning of the strength and liberties under which we ilve. . . .Let us visualize and imagine what the dead would say to us if we let their sacrifices be in vain."

Hollywood's Latest Craze: Bridey Murphy's Hypnotism

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bridey Murphy has brought a new party craze to Hollywood — hypnotism.

Toast of the town after only six weeks here is a Scottish - born Canadian named Bill McGonigle. At various parties he has hypnotized Kathryn Grayson into telling of another life as an English housewife, Jane Powell into persisting with her diet and Phyliss Kirk into giving up sweets and cigarettes.

Hollywood embraces fads with vigor — author Gayelord Hauser's diet and scrabble struck hard here. So it was only natural that the movie folk should become intrigued with hypnotism. A professional entertainer is currently hypnotizing notables nightly at Mocambo. Volumes on hypnotism have been snapped up at the book stores.

McGonigle, 34, has been invited to 15 exclusive parties in recent weeks and, to hear him tell it, he has been a sensation. Among his amazing achievements was shutting up Mickey Rooney.

The obstreperous Mick was always getting into the act while McGonigle was hypnotizing others at a recent party. So the hypnotist put the whammy on Mickey and made him sit silently in a chair.

"I was a little nervous about working in front of these people," the Scotsman observed, 'because all of them are entertainers in their own right. But they seemed to be fascinated by what I was doing."

And no wonder. He regressed Kathryn Grayson to a "previous life" as the wife of an older man and the mother of three children in 19th century England. McGonigle said that the singer gave an amazing reproduction of the talk of a semi-illiterate Lancashire woman.

"At one point she started crying that her husband had died," he related. "Some of the guests like Sterling Hayden got alarmed, so I brought her back to the present.

Boys On Tractor Sure Play Havoc

REVERE, Mass. (AP)—Two boys, ages 7 and 12, stepped into a 10-ton tractor at a construction job after the workers had gone home.

Seconds after they pressed down the accelerator a garage, a fence, a second garage and a 1955 automobile were demolished.

The boys, whose names police withheld, were not injured.

City Chief Named

DELAWARE (AP) — City Public Works Director Robert Mackley has been named acting city manager to replace Robert F. Mott who resigned to accept appointment as executive director of the Development Committee for Greater Columbus.

Bender, Bricker Split On Ballot

WASHINGTON (AP) —Ohio's Republican Sens. George Bender and John W. Bricker, disagreed in their vote Tuesday as the Senate amended its version of the highway bill to approve a federal prevailing wage provision.

Bender voted for the amendment and Bricker against. It was passed by a 42-37 rollcall vote.

Later, both voted for an amendment introduced by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) to write into the bill the apportionment formula for the interstate system used by the House. It was defeated, 55-27.

Dad Of 'Aquatots' Ruled As Insane; To Enter Hospital

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Russell Tongay has been ruled insane and will be transferred from prison to a state hospital.

The former Miami swimming instructor, serving 10 years for the death of his 5-year-old Aquatot daughter Kathy, is a maniac-depressive with suicidal tendencies, according to the order committing him to the hospital.

Warden DeWitt Sinclair said Tongay, now 39, has been a "very troublesome prisoner" since being confined to prison in 1954.

Tongay, a former Coast Guardsman, was convicted on a charge that he forced Kathy to make a 33-foot dive that fatally injured her. Kathy and her brother Bubba performed at swimming exhibitions over the country

Lausche Ready If Lightning Strikes Him

Ohio Governor In Mood To Accept Honors At Convention

Although terming his chances for nomination nil, the former Cleveland mayor and judge indicates that he would be in position for the lightning to strike.

"I will allow my name to go before the convention," the five-term executive told newsmen.

Lausche adds that he would attend the presidential nominating session opening Aug. 13 in Chicago.

He has attended only two party conventions as a spectator, as the 1940 convention in Chicago and the 1948 gathering in Philadelphia.

This year delegates carrying 54 of Ohio's 58 convention votes are pledged to cast them for Lausche as the state's "favorite son" candidate for President.

The "favorite son" usually releases his delegates after an initial complimentary vote although the tie is not legally binding.

The organization faction of Ohio's split delegation to the 1952 national convention cast its first vote for Adlai E. Sevenson, that year's nominee. Former U.S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, the faction's "favorite son," released his delegates after an early Stevenson trend appeared.

The other half of the Ohio delegation remained with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Lausche's statement that his name would go before the 1956 convention confirmed reports circulating about the Statehouse for several days.

Politicians saw in it confirmation that Lausche was playing his usual role of keeping himself available without actively seeking office. They recalled Lausche's oft - repeated observation that "high public office does not come to him who avidly seeks it."

Southern Democratic leaders and other party stalwarts have described Lausche as presidential timber. Various newspapers and publications of national circulation have reviewed his chances.

The governor, himself, says he does not harbor ambitions for national office but would not spurn a presidential nomination.

"There will be no meeting prior to going to Chicago," he said.

But he admitted that at least six Ohioans are likely prospects for the honor of presenting his name. They are: Former U.S. Sen. James W. Huffman of Columbus, second choice of Lausche-pledged delegates; Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, gubernatorial nominee and former federal price controller; James W. Shocknessy of Columbus, Ohio Turnpike Commission chairman and party wheelhorse; Thomas A. Burke, former U.S. Senator and Cleveland mayor; Anthony J. Celebrezze, Cleveland mayor and former state senator, and Frazier Reams of Toledo former Independent congressman.

Ex-Policeman To Testify In Burglary Case

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—Another former East Liverpool policeman is scheduled to testify for the state today, as the burglary trial of Patrolmen Ira W. Cunningham and Jerry Raimond resumes.

Dallas Eugene Bishop, 41, a former special officer, will follow Robert McBane, a former patrolman, to the stand. Both Bishop and McBane pleaded guilty to committing burglaries while they were East Liverpool law officers.

McBane testified Tuesday he had opened the door of the Joseph Berman Lumber Co. so Cunningham and Raimond could enter. McBane said he drove to the place in a police cruiser after loaning his station wagon to Raimond and Cunningham. He said Cunningham was building an addition to his home.

Also expected to be called as a state's witness is Patrolman George Kidd, demoted from lieutenant after the grand jury indicted seven officers and criticized the police department's efficiency. Kidd is returning from a Florida sick leave.

Patrolman Robert L. Hanna, 31, acquitted of a burglary charge May 24, will be reinstated to permit him to collect $153 vacation money, then he will quit the force, Mayor Arnold W. Devon said.

2 Robert Morgans Confuse Democrats

LILLINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Harnett County Democrats have a reason for scratching their heads over Robert B. Morgan.

The newly elected county judge is Robert B. Morgan. So is the county's state senator.

The two are not related, but both are Lillington lawyers and both are Wake Forest College graduates. To add to the confusion the wife of each is named Alice and each has a sister named Lucille. The senator still is receiving congratulations on the judge's victory in last Saturday's Democratic prmary.

Murphy Company Marks 50th Year

The G. C. Murphy Company store in Circleville represents a firm that has shown amazing growth through solid business principles and close association with the buying public.

The company this year is celebrating its Golden Jublee, highlighted by June anniversary sales throughout the nation. Circleville's Murphy store is in the heart of the community's trade life, at Court and Main.

When the organization was incorporated in 1906, little thought was then given to its prospects for growth to present-day proportions. All efforts were concentrated, instead, upon a strong foundation.

These pioneer efforts have paid off.

* * *

BY 1911, there were 12 Murphy stores in towns surrounding the headquarters in McKeesport, Pa. And in that same year, John S. Mack and Walter C. Shaw purchased controlling interest in the company. Until his death in 1949, Mack served as president and chairman of the board of directors.

Joint efforts of the two men welded a business policy that has made the familiar Murphy store a part of the typical American scene everywhere.

It was an early theory of Murphy management that the so-called "dime store" need not limit its service to customers by handling only those items retailing at no more than 10 cents. Time has proven the theory correct.

During the past fifty years the original 12 stores which were in operation in 1911 have grown to a chain of 303 stores in 13 states and the District of Columbia. Other stores in new states are planned for North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida in the near future. At the present time a total of 34 new stores are in the planning stage or under construction.

For the year 1911, total sales of the 12 stores in operation at that time was $251,699.00. In 1955 the Company reported a total sales volume of $196,423,090.00 in the 303 stores in operation during that year. In only three years since 1911 has the Company shown a sales loss, the greatest of which was 3.7 percent in 1932.

In addition to its pioneering managerial policies, the Murphy Company has instituted many other developments in the variety store field. Murphy stores were the first to carry a complete line of electrical supplies.

* * *

WOMEN'S APPAREL and style merchandise were also shown in Murphy stores years before such items were handled by other variety chains. Even in the early days, the services of style and apparel specialists were secured to help develop these new departments to their fullest extent.

Home Furnishings lines were expanded early this year and all Murphy stores now feature occasional furniture for budgetwise homemakers, curtains, draperies, lamps, rugs, pictures, mirrors, household linens, everything for the dining room and kitchen, patio furniture, barbecue accessories, lawn and garden equipment and supplies.

In recent years, the company has spent vast sums of money in perfecting merchandise and advertising techniques to promote maximum sales. The Murphy past is indeed a one of pioneering.

Observance of the company's Golden Jubilee is company-wide in scope and represents the result of two years of careful planning by a Fiftieth Anniversary Committee, composed of various executives of the Company. It is a year-long celebration, the high-light of which is represented in the month-long June Anniversary Sale which starts tomorrow.

An accelerated newspaper advertising schedule publicizes this value-giving event in all towns where Murphy stores are located. A record-breaking amount of money was invested in special merchandise for the Fiftieth Anniversary Sale which is offered shoppers at substantial savings.

Good Deed Brings High Drama For Boy

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Stanley Geiser, 12, provided drama on a rooftop when he tried to do a good deed.

The youngster grabbed a live 220-volt wire while retrieving a friend's slipper off a second-story roof.

Stanley, more scared than anything else, said the hot wire "sent shocks going through my arms and hands and when I tried to get away it hurt more."

Green Proves Lucky Color For Flaherty

Chicago Irishman, 29, Wins Top Laurels In 500-Mile Speed Test

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If any race driver still thought green was a bad luck color (an ancient superstition in the trade), they could get a sound argument today from George Francis Patrick (Pat) Flaherty, who won the 40th 500-mile race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Flaherty, a red-haired, 29-year-old racing veteran, roared unscathed Wednesday around a track littered with oil and debris from seven bad wrecks and innumerable spins and skids.

Two drivers, two pit crew members and two spectators were hurt as cars splattered against the concrete retaining walls and banged into one another.

Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., suffered a fractured collar bone and Jimmy Daywalt of Indianapolis suffered a burned arm when their cars crashed into the walls in separate accidents. They were reported in good condition at a hospital.

Flaherty, who runs a bar when he isn't racing, didn't put a scratch on the big green shamrock painted on the front of his helmet.

He started on the pole as the fastest qualifier in Speedway history and he beat veteran Sam Hanks of Burbank, Calif., to the finish line in the closest windup since Wilbur Shaw nipped Ralph Hepburn by 2.15 seconds in 1937.

Flaherty took the 41-year-old Hanks by 20.46 seconds, or about a third of the 2½-mile track.

The racing during competition was the fastest ever but due to an hour and 11 minutes of slowdowns for wrecks the final average was 128.49 miles an hour compared with Bill Vukovich's 1954 record of 130.84.

Flaherty missed Dick Rathmann's spinning car about two feet by splendid driving.

Flaherty, car owner John Zink of Tulsa, Okla., and master mechanic A. J. Watson of Glendale, Calif., won't know how much they won until the annual victory dinner tonight but Pat picked up $19,200 in lap prizes alone — $150 for each lap he led. The Speedway sets the purse according to the gate, which looked like more than 100,000 customers in spite of overnight rain.

The purse, including awards from accessory firms to cars using their products, was $270,000 last year and Sweikert won $76,138.

Don Freeland of Redondo Beach, Calif., finished third unofficially, followed by Johnnie Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., the 1950 winner; Dick Rathmann of Trenton, N.J., who pulled out of the spin that menaced Flaherty and then crashed on the south straightaway after crossing the finish line; Sweikert; Rodger Ward, Los Angeles; Bob Veith of Oakland, Calif., highest rookie finisher; Jimmy Reece, Oklahoma City; and Cliff Griffith, Indianapolis.

Gophers, Bobcats Slated To Tangle

ATHENS (AP)—Big Ten champion Minnesota and Mid-American Conference king Ohio University meet in a best-of-three series for the NCAA district four baseball championship here Friday and Saturday.

Minnesota walloped Notre Dame yesterday, 15-5 and 10-1, to win a best-of-three series. Ohio U. came from behind with a five-run eighth inning to clip Cincinnati in a single game, 8-6.

Pastrano Topples Spieser Again

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Willie Pastrano's finally got Chuck Spieser out of his hair, but the swift New Orleans heavyweight's future plans have little pattern.

Pastrano, borrowing a page from the baseball manual, hit to all fields last night. He displayed a newly acquired style of infighting in winning a nationally televised 10-round split decision over the former Olympic team member from Detroit.

The meeting was the third between the two and the record now shows two triumphs for Pastrano and one draw.

Bobby Thompson Paying Off For Braves-Giants Swap

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been a long time coming, but Bobby Thomson finally looks ready to deliver the payoff for the Milwaukee Braves in that ill-fated deal they arranged to get him from the New York Giants in 1954.

The Swattin' Scot was the man the Braves figured they needed for the pennant, and so they packaged pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, catcher Ebba St.Clair, infielder Billy Klaus and about $50,000 and sent them to the Polo Grounds for Bobby and catcher Sam Calderone.

You know what happened — Thomson broke an ankle in spring training, hit only two home runs and the Braves finished third. The Giants won the flag — with Antonelli winning 21 games.

Last season, Thomson hit 12 homers while playing on a part-time basis and the Braves finished second to Brooklyn.

Now Thomson has eight home runs so far this season and the slammed four homers, had six hits in nine trips and drove in seven runs as the Braves split a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs Wednesday.

All told, the two clubs combined for 15 home runs among the record 50 which were blasted in the 16-game Memorial Day card.

For all the records and Thomson's great day, however, most of the excitement was set off by Mickey Mantle's "nearmiss." The Oklahoma strong boy, jolting his 19th and 20th homers of the season as the New York Yankees swept Washington, smacked one against the facade on the third tier in right field that missed by 18 inches of being the first fair ball ever hit out of mammoth Yankee Stadium.

Thomson hit two homers in each game — his first "double" since Aug. 22, 1953. A pair of two-run homers by Hobie Landrith and Dee Fondy in the sixth got the job done in the opener for the Cubs, however, 10-9. Thomson's three-run blast triggered a four-run sixth that helped Milwaukee to an 11-9 edge in the nightcap.

Cub pitcher Russ Meyer and Billy Bruton were banished from the opener after exchanging blows when Meyer conked Bruton on his protective helmet with a pitch.

Cincinnati replaced St. Louis as the NL runner-up, sweeping the Cardinals 6-3 and 6-5. Ray Jablonski's three-run homer in the eighth won the opener. Doubles by Frank Robinson and Ted Kluszewski fired a six-run third that won the nightcap.

Pittsburgh held fourth place, 1½ games back in a split with the New York Giants. Dale Long's triple won the opener in 10 innings 5-4 for the Pirates. A two-run double by Al Dark broke up the nightcap for the Giants in 15 innings, 5-3.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia also split, the Dodgers scoring six in the sixth off Robin Roberts to win 6-5 in the opener. Then the Phils, with seven unearned runs, ran off with a 12-3 decision.

The Yankees beat the Senators 4-3 and 12-5. Mantle's big belt with two on gave them the lead in the opener. Mantle's 20th homer cracked a 3-all tie in the nightcap and a five-run sixth iced it.

Billy Pierce needed help, but won No. 100 in the majors and third straight over Cleveland as Chicago clipped the Indians twice 6-3 and 9-8.

Baltimore twice edged Boston in the ninth, 2-1 and 5-4. Bob Hale's single broke up the second game. Bob Nieman's single ended the opener.

Virgil Trucks, despite a swollen ankle that benched him for 10 days, three-hit Kansas City as Detroit beat the A's 5-1 in the second half of a morning-afternoon pair on a two-run homer by Al Kaline and a three-run shot by Frank House.The Tigers took the opener 11-3.

Fans Turning Out Better For Baseball

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball, enjoying its biggest day of the season, played to 240,354 fans yesterday for an increase of nearly 50,000 over Memorial Day a year ago.

The attendance for the eight doubleheaders on May 30, 1955 was 194,448. Yesterday a total of 122,025 saw the four American League doubleheaders and 118,329 were on hand for the four National League twinbills.

George Troutman Wins MVP Award

George Troutman, ex-Circleville High School athletic star, won the most valuable player award in track at Capital University.

Troutman has set many records in the discus toss and the shot put while at the Lutheran university in Columbus. Many of his wins have helped Cap to victories.

The 240-pound Troutman is also the top fullback on the grid iron squad. And for all his weight, Troutman is very fast and agile, as many opponents have found out.

Redleg Spurt Puts Ohioans In 2nd Place

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs are proof that you can go from plowboy to President mighty quickly in the National League this year.

When all games had been played Monday night the Reds were only a half game out of fifth place after losing three straight. By the same time last night a winning spurt of three games had boosted them into second place, but a game out of first.

Of course, their hold on second place is quite precarious but at least the Rhinelanders have squatters' rights on that position.

A double victory over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, 6-3 and 6-5, pushed them past both Pittsburgh and the Cards although the margin over St. Louis is only .004 in percentage.

Ray Jablonski's three-run homer in the eighth locked up the first game. In the second, the Reds squandered most of a 6-0 lead and then got some help from the weather as a downpour of rain ended action in the eighth. The score reverted back to its seven-inning 6-5 status although Cincinnati had tallied a run in its half of the eighth.

Johnny Klippstein went all the way to win the opener. Paul LaPalme got credit for the second although Hershel Freeman and Joe Black followed him to the mound after the Cardinals started whittling away at the Cincinnati lead.

The double victory assured Cincinnati of one of its most successful road trips in years. The Rhinelanders will wind up visits to every other city in the league tonight and they already have won 8 of the 13 games played.

Stock Car Racing To Resume Sunday

After the Memorial Day Holiday, stock-car racing will resume Sunday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

There was no racing at the local track Memorial Day due to the large race at Powell Speedway.

Stock cars will continue to be run every Sunday. Beginning June 6, open competition races will be held on Wednesday nights.

The local racing program is being promoted by the Scioto Trails Raceway of Columbus, Ohio.

Nashua Poses Question As Defeat Comes

Can the son of Nasrullah, who sold for $1,251,200 last winter and has won more money than any other horse in history, carry as much as 130 pounds and still win?

To achieve greatness, many horsemen say a horse must be able to win with even more than 130 in the saddle. On that basis Nashua still has to prove himself.

The strapping 4-year-old picked up 130 (the most he has ever carried) in the Metropolitan Mile at Belmont Park yesterday and wound up fourth as Midafternoon, who never had won a stakes race, ripped off the distance in 1:35 under 111 pounds, and paid $20.60. The time equalled the stake record established in 1930 by Jack High.

The fourth place money of $2,500 boosted Nashua's earnings to $1,102,865.

Double Loss Drops Indians To Third Place

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, dropped to third place by a double loss to the Chicago White Sox yesterday, leave tonight on an eastern tour.

They open in Washington tomorrow night and are scheduled to play 16 games in 14 days before they return home.

Now trailing the New York Yankees by six games, and percentage points behind the White Sox, the Indians need a lot of victories on this trip.

They lost two loosely played games yesterday by scores of 6-3 and 9-8. The Indians came up with a six run rally, featuring three home runs, in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

Cleveland came out of a hitting slump, getting 10 hits in the first game and 11 in the second. But Chicago batters rapped five Cleveland pitchers for seven hits in the first game, and got 13 hits off four Indian pitchers in the nightcap.

Five Chicago players were hit by pitched balls in the opener, one short of a record.

In the nightcap, Cleveland right fielder Stu Locklin lost Larry Doby's easy fly in the sun and it dropped for a double, scoring two runs. The White Sox got another run in a wild pitch by Bud Daley.

Art Houtteman lost his first start of the season in the opener, leaving in the sixth after Sherm Lollar hit a two-run homer. Billy Pierce got the victory, his third of the season over the Indians, although he needed help from Dixie Howell and Jim Wilson. Cleveland's Vic Wertz hit two homers and a double in the opener.

Snead Is Favorite In Texas Open

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' biggest golf tournament both in money and quality, the $70,000 Texas International Open, started today with Sam Snead in the familiar role of favorite but with a score of others strongly backed.

Ike Thumps Tub For Poll Win

GOP Complacency Hit In Campaign Speech

In an informal address at a Citizens for Eisenhower national campaign conference, Eisenhower alluded to his heart attack last September and touched off a laugh by saying that the only way he has now of knowing he was ill "is that the doctors keep reminding me."

The President added that he is now ready to "go forward" into the campaign and to work cheerfully and energetically for victory in November.

The goal, he declared, is "clean government, good government, progressive government and government that knows its place and doesn't interfere with me as I go about my duties."

The last part of that remark brought a laugh. The President did not elaborate on it.

Turning then to the aspirations of his administration, Eisenhower declared:

* * *

"THE GOALS we set have not been reached but progress has been made" toward maintaining a stable economy and making certain that America is strong "in the councils of the world." He added:

"The prestige of the United States has never been as high since the last world war as it is today."

Calling on the committee to work hard to bring about a Republican victory in November, Eisenhower spoke of his administration as a developer of a "great middle of the road philosophy of government."

"If we never lose sight of the goal, that is progress and we are carrying the torch," Eisenhower said. "We are not carrying ashes."

Clements Pleased By Kentucky Poll

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Earle C. Clements, pleased by pledges of support from the enemy camp in his own party, said today the Democrats will carry on in full harmony in the November general election.

The Senate's majority whip said wires of encouragement were received from all opposition leaders including Gov. A. B. Chandler, after his hard-hitting victory over Joe B. Bates in Tuesday's Democratic primary. Bates had solid Chandler backing.

On the Republican side, Thurston B. Morton was a shoo-in choice to oppose Clements in November.

Safety Council Holds Hope Against New Death Record

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council declared today "there is still time" to halt the trend toward a new high in highway traffic deaths.

Ned H. Dearborn, Council president, made the statement as the council counted a total of 101 highway deaths for Memorial Day. It had predicted that 110 persons would die on the nation's roads during the holiday.

Dearborn said that a recently completed tabulation showed that the April death toll of 2,960 was the highest for the month's history.

The previous high of 2,851 was set in 1953.

In addition, Dearborn said, traffic fatalities for the first four months of this year claimed 11,550 lives, an all-time high. The old mark of 11,281 was set in a comparative period in 1937.

He called for "resolute and prompt action" by public officials local organizations and individuals to curb the increasing death rate. At the current pace, he said, the 1956 traffic death toll could reach 42,[illegible] eclipsing the previous high of [illegible], set in 1941.

* * *

APRIL WAS THE 14th consecutive month in which traffic deaths were higher than for a corresponding month in 1955.

The Memorial Day toll was in addition to accidental death of other types. The Council said that 29 persons drowned and 30 died in miscellaneous mishaps.

Ohioans observed a relatively safe and sane Memorial Day. Only six accidental deaths were reported from 6 p. m. Tuesday to last midnight. Four deaths occurred in traffic accidents.

The nation's over-all Memorial Day accident toll total of 160 compares with 111 reported in an Associated Press survey May 16, a nonholiday Wednesday. That day's toll was 70 traffic deaths, 8 drownings and 33 miscellaneous deaths.

The record traffic death rate for any one-day holiday was set on Christmas 1946, when 253 persons were killed.

Last year's Memorial Day holiday extended over a three-day period (a weekend) and 369 persons lost their lives in motor mishaps. Total deaths were 596.

Generally mild weather lured millions of motorists to the highways yesterday in the first holiday of the spring-summer season.

3 Steel Firms Set For Talks With Union

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Representatives of the nation's three largest basic steel producers came here today to open unprecedented joint contract negotiations with the United Steel workers.

For the first time, the three companies (U. S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Co., and Republic Steel Co.) joined at the bargaining table. But they emphasized they were acting separately.

After David J. McDonald, president of the USW, had announced the new procedure in negotiations earlier this week, Vice President John A. Stephens of U. S. Steel said the move is not to be construed as industrywide bargaining.

"It is a joint effort to reach an early settlement," he said.

The three companies employ about 350,000 of the 650,000 USW members in the basic steel industry whose contracts expire at midnight June 30.

Representatives of the "Big Three" and the USW will meet here again tomorrow. The sessions then are expected to recess until June 6.

Meanwhile, negotiations with other companies are expected to be on a standby basis — to see what happens between the USW and the Big Three.

Included in 22 union proposals are requests for a "substantial" wage increase, a 52-week program of layoff benefits, premium pay for weekend work, and an insurance program paid for entirely by the companies. The steelworkers average hourly pay now is $2.46.

Jury Deadlock On Overdraft Case

The jury was unable to agree yesterday on a verdict in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. D. Logsdon. Another trial was set for Sept. 13.

The couple denied they knew former Whitesville bank cashier Bernard Barrett honored checks when they lacked funds to cover them.

Barrett, who indulged certain customers who wrote checks against insufficient funds, is serving a prison term for letting a $520,000 shortage accumulate.

Red Ships Visit

Joint Chiefs May Get Red Invite Too

Some U. S. Officials See Soviet Bid Slated For Next Maneuver

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some U. S. officials believe Moscow will follow up its successful bid to Gen. Nathan F. Twining with invitations to other American military leaders to visit Russia.

Members of the Soviet high command may be asked to come to the United States in return.

Secretary of the Air Force Donald A. Quarles announced yesterday that "with the authorization of the President" Twining had accepted an invitation to a Soviet Aviation Day celebration June 24. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, will be accompanied by several subordinate officers.

Quarles said the decision to accept had been approved also by Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of State Dulles, who is presently on a 10-day vacation. The Russian Embassy was advised of the decision.

* * *

THE DECISION for Twining to accept was speeded by a weekend report from Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow making clear the bid was a firm one. This indicated that the Soviet government was not interested at the moment in inviting other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for a tour of Russian military establishments.

Comments from the White House and Defense Department showed they would welcome a broadened invitation, but when it became evident that this would not be promptly forthcoming the decision was made for Twining to accept.

As a matter of policy, it appears that Soviet moves for increasing military contacts with the United States have confronted Eisenhower and his chief advisers with a choice of difficult and risky alternatives.

The central problem is this:

1. How can the United States enter into friendlier military relations with Russia without causing its allies and the free world generally to lower its guard and relax vigilance against Soviet communism?

2. On the other hand, can the United States afford to cold-shoulder Soviet moves for more normal relations in the military field without appearing to other countries to have a kind of Iron Curtain of its own?

Eisenhower himself is described as convinced that more and closer American-Russian contact are in themselves desirable in the interest of peace.

Kefauver Battles To Regain Ground Lost To Stevenson

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, fighting to regain ground lost in his Florida primary defeat, campaigned at full throttle today to whip Adlai Stevenson in California's climactic Democratic presidential primary.

Stevenson obviously was buoyed by his Florida victory over Kefauver as he too pushed a drive for votes in the California primary next Tuesday.

The rival candidates quickly resumed their in-fighting. Kefauver blamed his Florida defeat on support given to Stevenson by what he called "Talmadge-type" politicians. Stevenson retorted that Kefauver was a "sore loser" and accused his opponent of "mud slinging."

The California primary is a winner-take-all proposition, with 68 convention votes the jackpot prize. It also is the last direct Kefauver-Stevenson test before the Democratic convention in August.

* * *

KEFAUVER, ranging the San Diego area yesterday, flung at Stevenson the old age pension and "bossism" issues he used in Florida, where Stevenson pocketed 22 of the state's 28 national convention votes.

With only 23 of Florida's 1,778 precincts unreported, Stevenson has 221,718 votes to 209,447 for Kefauver, an edge of slightly more than 12,000.

Kefauver said his record reflected unflagging solicitude for the elderly. And he repeated his Florida accusation that Stevenson, while governor of Illinois, vetoed a bill that would have raised old age pensions.

Stevenson has called that charge unfair, saying he vetoed the bill because the State Legislature failed to appropriate money to implement it. California, like Florida, has a substantial number of retired citizens.

On the "bossism" issue, Kefauver said, "One of the great dangers of the present campaign in California is that the Old Guard politicans are using the campaign of Mr. Stevenson to climb back into power."

He said the "main reason I lost in Florida" was that "Talmadge-type politicians" were for Stevenson and "against me on the civil rights issue." The term "Talmadge-type politicians," Kefauver said, referred to former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, a strongly prosegregation leader.

Stung by Kefauver's charges, Stevenson declared:

* * *

"SEN. KEFAUVER is engaged in mud slinging that will hurt the Democratic party. I shall not stoop to those tactics. I am sorry that he has resorted to personal abuse and deceit in these last days of the primary campaign."

Florida's primary results increase the pledged and favorably committed national convention votes to 174 for Stevenson and 133 for Kefauver.

Before Florida's primary, the lineup of delegate votes as tabulated on the basis of primary results and polls of other delegates stood this way:

Stevenson	148½
Kefauver	127
Others	180½
Total	798

There will be 1,372 votes in the convention, with 686½ needed for a nomination.

The 180½ for "others" are spread among 10 men. The leading three are Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, with 56½; Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, 54, and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 46.

President Eisenhower's pickup of 26 additional delegates in the Florida primary runs his total delegates to 790 out of 923 chosen. A majority in the GOP National Convention will be 662.

Mingo St Woman Burned As Spilled Gasoline Explodes

An Eastend woman suffered leg burns Wednesday when spilled gasoline she was trying to wash away in her basement suddenly exploded.

Mrs. Ed Warner of 114 Mingo St. reportedly did not require hospital treatment following the accident. Firemen said she knocked over a can of gasoline while sweeping out the basement and was trying to wash the fuel down a drain when the heat from a water heater apparently ignited the gas.

The Circleville Fire Department was summoned to the scene at 8:35 a. m.

Teen-Agers Bring Terror To Great Lakes Park Boat

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A holiday outing ended in a voyage of terror for passengers aboard a Lake Erie amusement park vessel last night as teen-agers rioted aboard the ship.

Reporters aboard the crowded Canadiana for the 15-mile trip from Crystal Beach amusement park in Ontario to this city described it as "a nightmare of flashing knives and sobbing, frightened" passengers.

Cpl. J. E. Legate of the Ontario provincial police at Crystal Beach was quoted by the Buffalo Courier-Express as saying the disorders were "strictly racial."

But F. L. Hall, general manager of the amusement park, said the disturbance there was "not a race riot."

Six persons were treated for injuries at hospitals in Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont., and at least 10 others were treated for minor injuries at the park.

* * *

The Negro youths were charged with unlawful assembly and the whites with creating a disturbance. All were released under $500 bail each.

Police said no charges were placed against them immediately.

It was not known what set off the disturbances at the beach. An estimated 15,000 to 20,000 persons, mostly Americans, were reported at the park yesterday.

Margaret Wynn and Dick Hirsch of the Buffalo Courier-Express, who were aboard the three-decked steamship, reported that "nearly 40 white youngsters, several beaten or cut, cowered below decks in the ship's dining room for most of the trip after being attacked or threatened by the many Negro teen-agers who made up the majority of the passengers."

The reporters estimated that of the approximately 1,000 passengers, 80 per cent were Negroes.

"Members of the ship's crew and private police," the reporters wrote, "vainly attempted to keep order, but when one fight was broken up, another flared in a different portion of the boat."

"Firecrackers were carelessly flung at passengers, exploding at their feet. Several received powder burns. Switch-blade knives were brandished. Youngsters were shoved to the deck by the rampaging mobs which rushed back and forth over the decks."

She came all the way from Gadsden, Ala., to perform the ritual she began in 1928. Her husband John died in 1908.

Mrs. Coffee has traveled more than 28,000 miles on her annual trips since moving to Gadsden to live with a daughter.

Tallahassee Bus Boycott Forms Quickly

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A Negro boycott of city bus service has been judged about 50 per cent effective after one day of operation.

About 200 Negroes met Tuesday night and voted to boycott the buses until seating of white persons and Negroes on predominantly Negro lines is made on a first come, first served basis. They also want Negro drivers on the predominantly Negro lines and more courtesy from white drivers.

The meeting followed the arrest of two Florida A&M University students who had taken seats in the front of a Cities Transit Co. bus and refused to move to the rear.

Charges against the two women, Wilhelmina Jakes, 26, and Carrie F. Patterson, 20, were dropped by police yesterday. Chief Frank Soutamire said the cases would be turned over to authorities of the all-Negro institution. The coeds have been accused of placing themselves in a position to incite a riot. They had been released on $25 bond each.

The boycott started before the charges were dropped.

Boycott leaders estimated the number of Negro passengers had been cut in half. They said a 21-car pool was formed.

CYNTHIANA, Ky. (AP) — Starting her 104th year of life, Mrs. Eliza Ann Rogers had one main hope today—that her friends would live to see her on her 110th birthday.

Benson Limits Use To Crops Not Matured

Rates Listed For Corn, Wheat Taken Out Of Current Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson announced today that farmers in areas where 1956 crops are not too far advanced will be permitted to "bank" some croplands this year under the new $1.2 billion annual soil bank program.

Under this program, authorized by a new farm law signed by President Eisenhower Monday, the department will offer payments to farmers for reducing plantings of such surplus crops as wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

Payments will not be offered, Benson explained, on crops that already have matured.

Benson announced rates which will be offered for taking land out of wheat, corn, cotton and rice. Rates for tobacco and peanuts will be announced within a few days.

The rates are: corn 90 cents bushel; cotton 15 cents a pound; wheat $1.20 a bushel, and rice $2.25 a hundred pounds. These rates are equivalent to about 80 per cent of parity in the case of corn, cotton and wheat and 50 per cent of parity in the case of rice.

* * *

PARITY IS a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay.

For example, a farmer who took 10 acres of corn land out of production, and who has had an average yield of 50 bushels an acre, would get a payment of 500 bushels times 90 cents or $450.

Benson said the payments were designed, on the average, to be equal to or a little better than the net returns made on these crops, after paying production costs.

In order to be eligible for such payments, a farmer would have to plant less than the acreage allotment assigned him for any affected crop under the department's crop control program.

Benson said cut off dates for signing contracts to participate in

DROODLES

"CENTIPEDE DOING CARTWHEEL"

This Droodle made a big hit with Mr. Trompopolous, the friendly exterminator who comes around once a month to service Mrs. Goonsgarten's boarding house where I live. Mr. T. is so kindhearted he refuses to get rid of bugs and rodents with poison or traps. Instead he drives them off the premises with more subtle methods such as playing the "Flight of the Bumble Bee" on the trumpet, hollering "Fire" and dropping sly remarks such as "I hear the lady next door just bought a 50-pound wedge of cheese" or "It's a shame the city's going to blow up this house and build a parking lot." Unfortunately, his system has one tiny fault. It usually gets rid of more boarders than bugs.

U. N. Calls Off Activities Of Truce Team In Korea; Red Buildup Rapped

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command said today it is calling off all operations of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in South Korea and pulling team members back into the neutral zone.

The action was announced in a blistering statement accusing the North Korean Communists of armistice violations and the Czech and Polish members of the commission of covering up illegal Red activities.

Some hours later, Pyongyang radio said North Korea will discharge 80,000 men from its armed forces by Aug. 31. It called on South Korea to follow suit, saying the reductions would speed talks on unification of the country.

The North Korea broadcast did not say how many troops the Communist regime expected to have after Aug. 31.

U. S. Maj. Gen. R. G. Gard charged the Communists had used the commission "as a blind" behind which to illegally move jet fighters and other war materiel into North Korea.

* * *

"YOU ARE NO longer privileged to take advantage of those provisions of the armistice agreement which have been violated and frustrated by your conduct and that of the Czech and Polish members of the commission," Gard declared.

His statement was made at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission. The North Korean Communists denied Gard's accusations.

Gard, senior U. N. delegate to the armistice commission, said the Communists had never at any time since the armistice reported bringing combat aircraft into North Korea.

"This is particularly conspicuous," he asserted, "since your side now maintains in North Korea between 400 and 500 such aircraft, whereas you had none in that area at the time the armistice was signed."

Gard charged Czech and Polish officers with "fundamental perversion" of the commission, and said the U. N. Command was "entitled to take steps necessary to protect itself from the consequences of such unwarranted conduct."

North Korean Col. Lo In Hi, in denying Gard's charges, said:

"Your side has unmasked its attempt to wreck the armistice agreement. You will be held responsible for all the consequences arising from this unilateral action."

* * *

THE SUPERVISORY commission was set up by the armistice which ended the Korean fighting in 1953. There are four members of the commission—Sweden and Switzerland and the Soviet bloc nations Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The United States early this month told its Korean war allies steps should be taken soon to abolish the commission. Both the United States and South Korea have long charged that the Communist North Koreans have prevented the truce team from working effectively to check armistice violations.

Gard said the suspension of commission operations in South Korea would remain in effect until the Reds stopped illegal introduction of war material and "corrected" reports purporting to show there had been no violations.

Ohioan Convicted In Abortion Case

A jury found Daniel, 25, guilty Tuesday after a three-week trial. Daniel, who came here three years ago from Warren, Ohio, faces a possible maximum penalty of 20 years in prison.

Committees Formed To Promote Formation Of Proposed City 'Y'

More progress in plans to establish a Young Men's Christian Association locally was reported today with the formation of two committees.

This action followed a meeting Tuesday between Robert Young, area YMCA secretary, and a group of interested citizens. Another meeting has been scheduled for June 6.

Ed Webb was chosen to head a steering committee. He will work with the following men already named to the group and others who will join later: George Hartman, superintendent of city schools, Ed Grigg, Erv Leist, Milton Griest, Darrell Hatfield and Robert Steele.

An appraisal committee, whose duty it is to look over possible sites for a "Y" headquarters, is headed by Hatfield. Grigg and Leist will work with Hatfield.

* * *

TAYLOR TOLD the meeting that the biggest need in this area appears to be for a recreation center for the "young adult" group, for young men and women out of high school. He said there seemed to be enough supervised recreational facilities for younger folks.

Webb, as spokesman for the body which met, said everyhting was still in the exploratory stage. He said the group "is groping for ideas."

He noted that no definite plans have been formulated, but that leaders of the idea intend to look into all possibilities and angles.

"We could use more representation, especially from the county areas," Webb pointed out. "If anyone or any group is interested, I wish they would get in touch with me.

"There are probably some women's groups who would like to voice their opinions. We would be glad to have them too."

Defective Wiring Listed As Cause Of Milk House Fire

Defective electrical wiring is blamed for starting a fire in a milk house on a Washington Township farm Wednesday, according to a sheriff's department report.

The blaze took place on the Pete Bowman farm, located on the Ringgold-Northern Rd. east of Route 22. The Circleville Fire Department was summoned and joined the sheriff's department at the scene.

The following items were listed destroyed in the milk house, which was located 15 feet from a barn: a milk cooler, a hot water tank, a water pump, four units of milking machinery, seven milk buckets, five 10-gallon milk cans, three strainers, a wash trough, a bucket rack, a sack of calf feed, a wall cabinet and a block and tackle.

There was no estimate of the damage revealed.

Ohio To Get $117,700,000 For Highways

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio stands to receive $117,700,000, maybe more, in federal funds in the next two years for construction of new superhighways.

The amount may be as much as 161 million dollars, depending on a compromise which Senate and House conferees must reach before the multi-million-dollar highway bill can be sent to the White House.

The Senate bill, passed Tuesday night, calls for the smaller amount. Ohio would get $1,059,800,000 over the 13-year period for which the program is planned. The House bill calls for $1,452,100,000 for the Buckeye state.

Whether the program will effect the Ohio Turnpike is not clear.

An official of the Bureau of Public Roads said the federal government would not be disposed to "ruin" the turnpike's business by laying a free superhighway next to it.

Ultimately, the question will be up to the Ohio Highway Department, which has before it a proposal to build a second turnpike from Conneaut to Cincinnati.

Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio) brought up the proposed turnpike in debating on the highway bill.

"I believe that highway planning experts alone can determine whether or not the north-south highway can be built most effectively as a turnpike project or a freeway," Bender said.

Presbyterians Firmly Against Racial Bars

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has adopted a report calling for total elimination of racial segregation in this country.

The report adopted yesterday at the conclusion of the assembly's 168th annual meeting was directed toward employers, homeowners and politicians.

"Nowhere in this land," said the report, "can Negroes, and to a lesser extent other minority persons escape the indignity of segregation or discrimination in one form or another."

It recommended that:

1. Christians preparing to sell their homes keep uppermost in their minds "the need of minority families for equal housing opportunities and make their houses available to all qualified purchasers regardless of race."

2. Employers take all necessary steps to "break the pattern of discrimination in employment."

3. Politicians "work for the removal of the poll tax and other restrictions which prevent many American citizens from exercising their legal rights . . ."

Benson Limits Use To Crops Not Matured

the soil bank will be established by areas in relation to crop progress, and will be announced later.

Farmers will work out their programs and sign agreements with the department's local agricultural stabilization and conservation committees, made up of fellow-farmers.

Benson said payments will go out to participating farmers as quickly as compliance can be determined and the administrative machinery set up to make the payments. Presumably, this would be late in the summer or early fall.

Benson said that the program would call for the plowing up of immature crops. While agreeing that the practice of paying farmers to plow up crops has come under criticism in the past, the secretary said he believed it could be justified as long as no mature crops were involved. He said plowing under of green, immature crops adds fertility and makes other improvements in the soil.

The secretary went over various provisions of the new farm law and said the administration was disturbed by a provision directing it to sell up to five million bales of surplus cotton abroad this year at prices which officials consider to be too low.

$26 Million Due For Vets On Unused Leaves

The federal government is holding about $26 million that it is anxious to pay out to 130,000 ex-GI's. Payment would be for Armed Forces Leave bonds since 1951.

The federal treasury suggests that money be re-invested in United States Series E Savings Bonds, which pay three per cent compounded semi-annually when held to maturity.

The $26 million is all that is left of more than $2 billion paid out to reimburse, for unused leave, those World War II veterans discharged between April, 1943 and October 1, 1946. The five-year bonds carried an interest rate of 2½ percent a year.

* * *

SPECIAL act of Congress in 1947 made the bonds redeemable prior to maturity after September 1 of that year. Some $1.5 billion were cashed within the next few months, but the remainder were held to draw additional interest. However, the last of these matured on October 1, 1951, and have drawn no interest since that date.

Now the Treasury would like to clear its books of this bond issue, and is calling on all veterans' organizations to help locate the 130,000 bond owners, who have an average holding of $200. And, the Treasury asks, since these veterans apparently don't need the money, why not put it in Series E Savings Bonds?

Ohio Women In Finals Of Sewing Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Ohio women are among 33 finalists in a $125,000 sewing contest to be staged here next month.

Mrs. Lucille F. Malecki of Fairview Park and Mrs. Forrest Conrath of Marietta will arrive in New York June 6 to compete in a public sew-off for a $25,000 grand prize.

Mrs. Malecki, mother of a 10-year-old girl, is the Cleveland regional winner, and Mrs. Conrath, mother of five, the Cincinnati regional winner.

The sew-off will be a featured attraction of the sewing fashion festival being held at the New York Coliseum June 11-17.

Each of the sewing champions, who reached the finals with a dress she made for herself, must make a dress for a professional model while participating in the sew-off.

Winners will be announced June 14. Ten awards will be made ranging from the $25,000 grand prize to $500.

Mrs. Malecki has been sewing for 28 years. She says sewing for her family, besides saving her money, gives her "the thrill of creating with my own hands." She also sews choir vestments for St. Mark's Episcopal Church. She spends an average of five hours a week at her sewing machine.

Mrs. Conrath, who spends about 10 hours a week at her machine, has been sewing for 25 years.

London Policemen Guarding Queen

LONDON (AP) — Security men with telltale pistol bulges in their raincoats mingled with cheering London crowds today as Queen Elizabeth rode on horseback through sun-drenched streets to review her troops.

Hundreds of extra police were drafted into the city from outlying provinces and plainclothes detectives moved up and down the procession route on the watchout for three Cypriot gunmen reported to have slipped into England with assassination orders. In Britain policemen usually go unarmed.

States Rights Party Reborn In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippians for States Rights, a virtual rebirth of the 1948 Democratic party split, was organized yesterday with platform based on what they termed loyalty to principle rather than to party.

About 250 cheering, applauding persons from throughout Mississippi agreed to qualify independent presidential electors in an attempt to create a foothold for bargaining with either the Republican or Democratic party for full states rights.

Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan of Jackson, a founder and keynoter of the organizational meeting, offered the hope that if 100 unpledged, independent electors voted in a bloc, they could throw the election into the House of Representatives where each state has one vote.

McGowan said Mississippians for States Rights was organized on the assumption that neither major party would nominate candidates acceptable to the South. His group, however, does not have the backing of the governors of the states involved.

Instead, the group criticized Governors J. P. Coleman of Mississippi, James Folsom of Alabama, Earl Long of Louisiana and Orval Faubus of Arkansas for what it called a lack of leadership against "federal encroachment."

Tot Struck By Car In Darby Township

A report to the sheriff's department here today said a four-year old Orient Route 1 boy was struck by a car Wednesday.

Robert Musselman was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital with a skinned arm and knee and a cut on the head, according to the report. The accident took place on Ballah Rd. in Darby Township.

Murray Arledge, 64, of Orient Route 1, reportedly said that he saw the child dart out in front of his car. He added that he almost came to a full stop when the accident happened.

Darwin Fultz, 17, of Mt. Sterling Route 1, was slightly injured when his car went out of control on a gravel road just past midnight Wednesday.

The accident took place on the Yankeetown-Waterloo Rd. in the extreme western part of Pickaway County. Fultz suffered a lacerated hand and lip, and a bruised knee.

He told the sheriff's department his brakes failed to hold.

And What Next? Mink Caught In Flower Shop

Mrs. Lois Wadlington, bookkeeper at Brehmer's Greenhouse on N. Court St., saw a good many customers come and go Tuesday in the rush for Memorial Day flowers.

But she did a double-take in particular when one stranger darted in the front door and stood wiggling his tail. In fact she stared at the animal and (he, she or it) stared back at her.

The little beast came nearer. Mrs. Wadlington, who decided it wasn't a rat or a mouse after all, took a precautionary step backward. And simultaneously she let it be known that funny things were happening on the premises.

In no time at all, the animal—perhaps 6 or 7 inches long when "stretched out" — was cornered and held for Pickaway County Game Protector Clarence Francis. And he confirmed what bystanders had already said.

* * *

IT SEEMED to be a baby mink—one of those very valuable little slicksters which, in numbers, can get you an elegant fur coat.

Francis said he does not know of anyone raising minks hereabouts. And that leaves the mystery waiting:

Parma Girl Falls Into Deep Ravine

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 17-year-old girl fell 100 feet into a ravine in suburban Parma last night, but suffered only minor injuries.

Eileen McGloin, who was helping her family move into a new house, had walked to the brink of the ravine to look at the scenery. A tree branch she was holding broke and she fell, landing on soft grass. Firemen rescued her with ropes and ladders.

June Slated To Be Exciting For Business

Month Due To Open With Idle Pay Plan; Strike May Close It

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — When June comes bursting out all over Friday it ought to start an exciting 30 days for business.

The month opens with a test of the new layoff pay plan for auto workers — now idle in large numbers. The month will close with a showdown on the threat of a strike that now hangs over the steel industry.

All this comes on the heels of a spring that suffered from a split personality.

Part of the economy went booming right along and many a business and many an employe felt that times were good indeed. But the soft spots kept getting softer.

As June starts there's considerable dispute as to which will get the upper hand. Will weakness spread from industry to industry? or will the hard spots in the economy pull the rest up to them in time?

June will see college graduates going to opportunities that seem fabulous to the depression generation. Industry competes for their services where 20 years ago the graduate searched hard for any job. Now they will start off making as much in a week as the older generation made in a month.

June will see retailers doing their best to work up love and tangible affection for dad on Father's Day. Presents for the June bride, merchants hope, will be more generous than ever — and also for the crop of graduates.

But all won't be roses. The business world is at the name calling stage in the dispute over monetary policy — should money be cheap and credit easy or tight and interest rates high? Some think June will see a turning point in money management.

But most eyes will be on Detroit and Pittsburgh as the month starts. Friday auto workers laid off in May, or to be laid off hereafter, will be eligible for supplemental unemployment benefits. In and out of the industry people will be interested in how it works out; how long the trust funds will last; how the laid off workers will take it if the extra payments aren't as large as they expected. And the nation will watch to see if the auto slowdown spreads further.

Monday the unions and the steel executives started bargaining. The month will tell whether there's a strike, a "reasonable" contract, or a new wage scale and price hike large enough to start an inflationary spiral in other industries.

There may be a lot of rare days this June.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A large crop of chickens landed in the nation's food stores this week, making fryers the most widely offered special for the weekend.

Housewives will find the birds priced lower than last week in most sections of the country, although local supply conditions could hold prices firm or even higher in some areas.

There was a variety of other meats on special sale, but no particular pattern prevailed throughout the country. Rising wholesale prices for meats in the past few weeks have forced retailers to look hard for specials and what they find varies widely.

Beef cuts held firm on wholesale markets this week. Lamb was scarce and showed no sign of giving up the strong advances made in recent weeks. Pork went higher and is now close to levels at which it sold a year ago.

Local farms continued to supply the outstanding buys on vegetable counters. These were chiefly radishes, spinach, green onions and various types of lettuce.

Good buys included celery, carrots, corn and beans.

Thief Steals Suit Belonging To Cop

DALLAS (AP)—Note to the thief who stole a size 43 suit from the Main Street Cleaners:

That charcoal colored suit may get uncomfortably hot for wear on Dallas streets and not just because it is flannel.

Tractor Thief, 14, Slated For Hearing

ZANESVILLE (AP)—A 14-year-old Muskingum County boy, accused of stealing a Washington County farmer's tractor last week, is in the custody of his parents today, awaiting a hearing before Juvenile Judge Holland M. Gary.

The boy was captured in Logan, W. Va., two days after the farmer, Frank Stacy, of Marietta, reported his tractor missing.

The head of a committee is called a chairman because, in the old days, chairs were rare and only the leaders could sit in them.

Water Skier, 32, Swept To Death Over High Falls

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The swift-running Snake River swept a water skier over the brink of 212-foot Shsohone Falls Wednesday as outlookers taking the Memorial Day sun watched in horror from the shore.

Still missing today was the body of 32-year-old Melvin W. Hulbert of Boise, Idaho.

Witnesses said Hulbert lost his balance and fell into the water of a lagoon about 1,000 yards upstream from the falls, one of the highest cataracts in the west. He splashed around in the water, apparently unconcerned, while the current edged him ever closer to the lip of the falls.

"About 200 feet from the falls he seemed to realize he was in trouble," one witness said. The boat which had been towing him and another craft made desperate, dangerous last-minute passes in an attempt to rescue him almost at the brink.

DECLINE OF HANDWRITING

DURING RECENT months controversy has raged over modern methods of teaching reading in public schools. "Why can't Mary read?" is asked by the parents. And the teachers answer that she can read and she reads well for her age.

But, if Mary can read, equally important is the question, "Can Mary write?"

A metropolitan business school which gives private tutoring in shorthand and office procedure gets requests for handwriting instruction regularly.

And a third school, where good penmanship is thought to be a prerequisite for job placement, is considering adding a penmanship course to its curricula because many adept students never even succeed in getting an interview with a prospective employer because of the poor impression created in filling out an application blank.

Many businessmen lament that fine penmanship is rare and handwriting is becoming a lost art. They know the situation well. One department store spokesman says, "Everyday we have examples of packages that have to be traced or bills that have to be adjusted because of popr writing."

Handwriting is a tool for communication and by the time a student reaches high school he should attain a standard quality of writing. But at that point writing usually gets progressively worse with age. There are long assignments to prepare and students in their haste make incomplete letters and leave words poorly spaced. Thus illegibility is born and grows.

These students later become living headaches in some business office—or at home, where the milkman has a difficult time deciphering the housewife's messages left in empty bottles.

These individuals not only have a difficult time reading someone else's scrawly script, they often cannot read their own handwriting.

TRADING STAMP GAINS

THE BRITISH have their lottery but Americans, who constitutionally swore off such things generations ago, have trading stamps. The two aren't exactly the same but have a kinship in the hope of prize gains.

That trading stamps, by which the consumer is entitled to free merchandise and other premium items, are growing rapidly is statistically evident. Industry estimates place the volume of trading stamps at $212 million per year. But an Indiana University researcher places the volume at $650 to $805 million per year.

This growth comes despite the opposition of retailers who claim that trading stamps are an indirect and perhaps illegal way of giving customers discounts.

Last year the legislatures of 24 states tried to put a crimp in trading stamps. Most of the proposals failed because the device is thought to be popular. In only three states are the stamps outlawed. But the Federal Trade Commission has started an investigation to determine the legality or illegality of stamps. Some merchants are appealing to consumers on grounds that they pay for the stamps in higher prices.

But opposition is said to be weakening. Barring federal action of nation-wide force, the trading stamp seems to be going places. Whether government - sanctioned lotteries by popular demand will follow in the fullness of time is anybody's guess.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

I got talking to a window washer — you know, a fellow who stands on a window ledge a dozen or two stories above the street, hooked on to a leather strap, washing windows, hopping from window ledge to window ledge, and causing a sensitive person to look away for fear that he might drop.

This was a rather good-looking fellow who somehow made one feel that he ought to be in an office. I asked a girl in my office why she thought he risked his life washing windows and she was sure it was for the pay. But how much pay could he get? I doubted whether he was paid as much as the young lady.

So we finally got the story. The fellow had been in the Marines. And he went to college and learned some kind of stuff under the G.I. Bill of Rights which required him to work indoors, at a desk, in an office. It made him nervous.

He could not eat. He could not sleep nights. He smoked too much. He became a nervous wreck. Inside work was not for an ex-Marine.

So he got a job as a window washer and he lost all his nervousness. He can stand on a ledge, 20 stories or more above the sidewalk, washing a window and he feels fine.

He now eats well. He sleeps well. Everything is O. K.

So it only goes to show that what is one man's meat is another man's poison and that nobody can set up rules that hold for everybody. That is one of the troubles with the world today. Every government is trying to fit all its people into molds.

For instance, even in this country, we now have a propaganda to turn out more scientists and engineers and the college boys are being majored and minored until they get not an education but a training which is a very different thing.

That jockey, Bill Pearson, on "The $64,000 Question," seems to me to be an educated man, but I have met many important engineers and scientists and businessmen who are regarded as wonders in their fields but who know no history, no art, no philosophy, no music. In a word, they have lived long and prosperously but without education. They have college degrees but no culture.

Perhaps we need to become a nation of chess players to develop realistic, competent minds that can think beyond the advertiser's slogans to the components of a problem and the facts that challenge human conduct.

In a word, here we face a coldly statistical fact that two nations, Soviet Russia and Red China, which were of slight significance a decade ago, now are strong enough to challenge our existence and we still live in a realm of rocknroll concepts. It is not only scientists and engineers that we need but men of independent thought and imaginative action. We need more educated men and women who can think for the doers.

CHAPTER 35

THE AMBULANCE from the Good Heart Hospital didn't arrive until the afternoon. The native driver had gone early in the morning up to the main road, stopped a car and got to a telephone. He seemed to have recovered completely not only from the slight concussion he'd sustained, but he seemed to have forgotten his vision of the three-legged calf.

The little priest made them drinkable coffee, baked breadfruit, and brought them in a bunch of red, tree-ripened bananas. Bruce and Val took turns in staying with Cynthia, who was slowly regaining consciousness.

It was with a deep feeling of relief that Val saw the two colored orderlies with a stretcher thread their way through the thick forest of trees toward the hut.

The newly-built hospital was a gracious-looking white structure on a hillside overlooking Montego Bay. Darkness was falling by the time they reached it, but the night was still and peaceful and the moon was rising. Cynthia's father had got out of a sick bed to await the arrival of the ambulance and stood in the foyer with the matron watching the stretcher on which his daughter lay being carried into a private ward. Afterwards he wrung Bruce's hand and thanked him brokenly for having saved his daughter's life.

"If you hadn't been in that car, Harridan, I dread to think what would have happened to Cynthia," he said earnestly. "You saved my little girl's life—and she's everything in the world to me."

Bruce said modestly that he'd done what any other surgeon would have done, and together the two men and the matron went down the long corridor into the private room which had been prepared for the patient. Val found herself alone in the reception hall where one of the ambulance drivers had dumped her luggage. No one had told her where her room was; no one, in fact, had paid any attention to her since the ambulance had arrived. But she was too tired, too sick at heart, to care. She sank down on a chair and rested her head against the high carved back, content to wait, content for the moment not to have to think.

She had closed her eyes when she was aroused by a voice, with a faint trace of a Scottish burr lingering in it, saying:

"I'm sorry you've been left on your own, Sister Alison. It was very remiss of me, but I've been helping them get Miss Felton settled and introducing Doctor Harridan to Doctor Munsey, who will be in charge of Miss Felton tonight."

"It's quite all right, Matron." Val smiled and got to her feet. "I must have dropped off to sleep. I suppose I'm tired."

"You have every right to be tired," the matron said sympathetically. "Doctor Harridan has been telling me what a wonderful help you were to him. Would you like to go to your room now and have your supper in bed, or will you join us in the dining room so that I can introduce you to your colleagues?"

The short nap must have refreshed Val for she no longer felt so tired. "I'd like to have supper in the dining room, Matron, if I may." She smiled again and added, "But I certainly need to bathe and change my clothes first."

"Come along, I'll show you your room. One of the orderlies will bring your luggage along, and perhaps after supper you'll come into my apartment and have a cup of tea and a chat. That is, of course, if you're not too tired, Sister."

Val smiled back at her gratefully. "I'm sure I shan't be too tired, and thank you, Matron."

The bedroom assigned to her was a small, pleasant room, and its large window looked down over the fashionable tourist resort of Montego Bay. She opened the window wide and looked out. She saw the still waters of the bay, blue steel in the moonlight, the circle of lights along the front and the more brilliant lights of the fashionable tourist hotels.

Val unpacked a few things and went along the corridor to the door where the matron had indicated she could take a bath. Presently, dressed in a cool cotton dress, she entered the dining room shyly, for meeting one's colleagues in any new job is always an ordeal. But the matron came forward to meet her and took her under her wing.

The food was good, a combination of European and Jamaican cooking. After supper bowls of tropical fruit were passed around, peeled oranges encrusted with ice, mangoes, custard apples, sliced pineapples and small red bananas.

The matron had a pleasant two-room apartment in one of the wings of the building, furnished with hand-tooled furniture of Jamaican woods. She smiled down at Val as she carried the tea tray back into the sitting room.

"Are you feeling any better?" The matron looked in a kindly way down into the girl's pale, strained face.

"Yes, much better, thank you, Matron," Val said, and added anxiously, "Is Miss Felton still resting comfortably? The trip across in the ambulance hasn't set her back?"

"We feel confident she's off the danger list. Doctor Munsey, a brilliant young surgeon by the way, and one of our own islanders, is looking after her. Cynthia's father, Professor Felton, is so reassured he has gone home with Doctor Harridan, whom he has invited to spend the night with him. The Feltons have a lovely villa on the other side of the bay. It's very quiet and restful there."

Val tried to hide the bleak feeling that came over her. Bruce had gone off, without saying a word to her. It was conceivable he might have thought she was resting when he left, but surely he could have written a note? She had sensed during their talk on the ramshackle porch this morning that he too was uncertain in his mind about many things.

DIET AND HEALTH

Quick Action Needed In Case Of Poisoning

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

These are just one group of poisons which you must protect your children against. Sleeping drugs are another—and there are many more.

Quick action is essential in any case of accidental poisoning. Labels of most poisons contain instructions for administering antidotes. Read the label even before you open the container—just to be prepared.

Some Steps

Here are some steps you should follow even before you take the time to find an antidote.

If someone in your home should swallow an overdose of any sleeping drug or liquor, or take any gardening or vermin extermination poison, iodine, arsenic, strychnine, kerosene, wood or denatured alcohol, here's what you should do until the doctor arrives:

1—Force him to swallow large quantities of water containing baking soda or soapsuds (not detergent suds). If no soda or soap is immediately handy, make him drink a lot of lukewarm tap water. This helps to dilute the poison as well as induce vomiting.

2—Make the patient vomit repeatedly until the fluid is as clear as when it was swallowed.

3—Give him a dose of epsom salts—a glass of water containing one heaping teaspoonful.

4—Then give him any antidote which might be on the label of the bottle which contained the poison swallowed.

Sleeping Drugs

If the patient has taken an overdose of one of them, you should continue treatment after following the above procedures by giving him strong black coffee in easy doses. But be careful not to exhaust him.

Don't give coffee or any other stimulant to anyone who has swallowed strychnine.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Answer: Brown spots are due to excessive pigmentation. Often these spots may be bleached out by the use of such ointment as ammoniated mercury.

However, this should be done by a physician since there is danger in the use of bleaching ointments.

George D. Speakman won the Country Club golf handicap tourney and the Dr. C. G. Stewart trophy.

TEN YEARS AGO

The Rev. Clarence Swearingen was reassigned to the First Methodist Church here as three other pastors assumed new posts in the area.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A milk price war was in force at Ashville, with prices down to six cents a quart or four cents a pint.

Dr. Robert Williams, president of Ohio Northern, addressed the Circleville High School graduating class, with the valedictorian absent because of mumps.

Try, Stop Me

Servant problems are pressing the country over, but Las Vegas housewives (sure, there are some!) have something extra to contend with. One of them told a new cook to dice some beets for dinner. Two hours later the cook reported, "Ma'am, cutting up them beets was no trouble at all, but putting all those black dots on them is plumb driving me crazy."

Author Harry Kurnitz achieved the impossible: he happened upon a restaurant in Paris where the food was positively terrible. What's more, the waiter cheerfully admitted the fact. "Monsieur would be wise," he whispered, "to get out of here fast. There's a really fine little restaurant right across the boulevard."

"Are you sure?" asked Kurnitz. "Sure? Certainement," said the waiter vehemently. "I own it." Then he added, "This miserable place is where I find my customers."

He Rides Through Rainbows --By Hal Boyle

SYLVA, N. C. (AP)—Many men who dream a big dream and make it come true learn to their surprise that it isn't what they really wanted after all.

But what can they do? Most remain embittered prisoners of a phantom success they no longer enjoy but are afraid to give up.

It takes a good man to give up his hard-won position at the peak and fight back down the rocky road he has traveled in order to regain something finer he lost earlier on the way up.

John's ancestors journeyed from the coastal plain into the mountains of western North Carolina along rude horse and oxen paths shortly after the American Revolution, and the family has put its roots down pretty deep here since then.

But John, who became a reporter at 13 and never encumbered his mind with college lumber, got a yearning for the far places. Like most small town newspapermen, he dreamed of becoming a top byline writer in the big city.

He did. Before he was 23 he was writing daily feature articles out of New York for a news agency.

But more distant fields called. John went to London during the blitz raids. He landed as a war correspondent with the initial Allied forces that invaded Africa on Nov. 8, 1942.

After the war, John returned to New York, became a diplomatic correspondent for the Associated Press and covered the birth and development of the United Nations. He scored a number of notable beats. Covering the homburg hat set and its intrigues was heady, exciting, important. Yet something, he didn't know what, was missing.

In 1946 he met and within five weeks married Dorothy Luxton, a pretty art teacher from Topeka, Kan. But he had the forethought to tell her when he proposed:

"Honey, you may have to learn to use a double-bitted ax to cut up wood to keep a fire going."

Soon after, his father, a jeweler here, died, and John took a leave of absence to come down and settle the estate.

"Almost as soon as I got here," he recalled, "I realized what was missing in my life. It was a kind of happiness I had known in the hills, and hadn't been able to find anywhere else."

It took a lot of courage for John to resign his job as a diplomatic correspondent at the United Nations and start his career all over in his old home town. It took a lot of understanding on his wife's part to back him. But she did.

It wasn't easy. John spent two years on a novel that didn't quite come off, but, as he says, "may yet."

But in 1950 he began promoting "Unto These Hills," a pioneer outdoor drama of the Cherokee Indians that this year may draw its millionth spectator. On top of this and some magazine writing chores John started writing a column called "Roaming the Hills" for the Asheville Citizen.

It spread faster than the rhododendron does in June. A book of his collected vignettes of mountain people and old mountain customs recently sold out a first edition printing of 10,000 copies in a few weeks. More books are in prospect.

Everywhere John goes in the mountains he is recognized and welcomed. He purrs his Cadillac 200 to 300 miles on an average day, and may ride through four rainbows. He never drove through a single rainbow on his way to work at the United Nations.

Melt currant or grape jelly and use as a quick sauce for cottage pudding.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl of 20, a shy, lonely and quiet type of person. I have a problem. At a dance I met a young man about a year older than I. Bert is a nice, polite and gay type of person and I liked him right away. We went out together several times.

On our last two dates I knew I liked him very much and I showed affection for him, which I realize now I shouldn't have done.

On our last date we went to a show; and after coming home, we sat in the car and talked for a while. Then we started to neck and didn't realize the passing of time. My mother is a strict person and I was supposed to be home by midnight. All of a sudden it was 2 a. m.

My mother was worried and came out looking for us, and found we had been sitting in the car since midnight. I was ashamed of myself. Bert took the blame for our being so late; but it was my fault, as I had wanted love from someone.

Bert walked me to the door, where my mother was waiting, and she slapped me in front of him. Bert has never been back since that night, and when I do see him he avoids me and looks the other way. What can I do?

K. Y.

DEAR K. Y.: In all probability it wasn't your love-seeking with Bert, on the evening of your last date together that scared him away. Rather, I think it was your mother's angry slapping of you, in his presence, that caused him to quit the scene with a sense of shame and distress—and lingering distaste for the whole episode.

If you were wrong in sitting in the car after midnight, to court a necking session with Bert, he was equally wrong in following your lead. He might have said in effect (as socially savvy boys sometimes do say to girls they like): "Look, you'd better go in; it's not right for you to be sitting out here; the neighbors will talk; your parents won't like it," etc. And such boys do call a halt right there.

As for your mother's attitude, I think she was wrong, too, in her specific reaction to your display of poor judgment that evening. She was catering only to her own upset feelings. She wasn't considering your growth needs and overall difficulties.

What to do? Don't pursue the subject with Bert. Get expert help, from a clergyman, psychologist or family relations counsellor, in overcoming your outcast loneliness and timidity. Then your behavior and experiences with boys will be different.

Postmaster Seeks Writer Of Letter Sent 'Care Of God'

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Postmaster H. Wayne Parker still hasn't located "Mickey," who wrote a touching letter to "Mommy, care of God, Heaven," but stacks of mail and at least one $25 check are waiting.

Mickey's unstamped letter found its way to Parker's desk May 17. News reports of the letter touched off a flood of answering mail. A check came for "Mickey" from a banker in Elmore City, Okla., who said: "This little girl must not lose her faith."

Mickey's letter bore no return address or last name.

"Dear Mommy, I miss you very much since you went to live with God. I hope you're happy. I'm lonesome without you and Daddy since you have gone away. Please tell God to help me be good so I can come to heaven by you. Love, your baby girl, Mickey."

Ike Respected By Red China Chief

BOSTON (AP) — Red China Premier Chou En-lai has been quoted as expressing "high regard" for President Eisenhower as a "force for peace."

Miss Edith Wall, traveling companion of Indian Health Minister (Princess) Amrit Kaur, said Chou made the comment to the princess in the form of a "factual statement" in October 1955 while President Eisenhower was recovering from a heart attack.

Mary Pickford Knicked By Bullet

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mary Pickford, sweetheart of the silent screen, has disclosed that a bullet grazed her head when a pistol was accidentally discharged.

The former actress made light of an incident she said took place Saturday night as she and her husband, producer Buddy Rogers, were returning home with Marion Davies and the latter's husband, Capt. Horace Brown.

Miss Pickford said that Brown, formerly of the Merchant Marine, was showing his pistol to Rogers when he slipped in a spot of oil in the driveway.

The gun discharged, she reported, and the bullet ricocheted from the driveway to her forehead. A doctor treated Miss Pickford for a slight abrasion.

Sokolsky's

Teachers and professors are very touchy people and they get very excited if one criticizes their realms. But the question at issue is what has happened to that brilliant, initiating, competent, go-getting American mind that developed our great industrial base not by the routines of unimaginative, over - organized, apple - polishing management that concerns itself principally with security and seniority and fringe benefits, but that took chances and risks and built a private, personal fortune to be used at will and left after death to a family? There was ambition in that process and a tremendous excitement over life.

The window washer who left the fringe benefits of an office to stand on a ledge and wash windows because that is what he wants to do seems to me to be a smart man who is doing what he chooses to do, for himself and for his own satisfaction. He will not die of ulcers or a nervous breakdown even if he never gets any fringe benefits. He has the courage of his convictions and risks his neck for them which he finds a more interesting life experience than shining his trousers on a swivel chair waiting for a pension.

And after the pension—what comes? Surely after retirement and a pension either come another job of work or decay and death.

Bender Evokes Some Laughs, Blames Lausche For Roads

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) took the Senate floor this week to criticize his November election rival, Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche for what Bender called Ohio's "poor highways."

Bender's remarks came as he addressed the Senate in support of a multi-billion-dollar highway program.

At one point, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), smiling broadly, asked Bender whether Lausche is running for senator. Bender retorted:

"He is running for President of the United States, for vice president, for senator and I don't know that else he could run for."

Bender's remarks also took up a proposal for a north-south Ohio turnpike from Conneaut to Cincinnati. Chiding the Lausche administration for what he called delays in deciding on this project, Bender asserted:

"I believe that highway planning experts can determine whether or not the north-south highway can be built most efficiently as a turnpike or a freeway. It does not take an expert to determine that it ought to be built before the automobile becomes obsolete."

Bender declared the federal government wants to help Ohio build more and better roads. But, he said, a good deal of responsibility rests on Ohio, too. He told the Senate:

"If the state's chief executive refuses to accept the responsibility vested him by his office, the people should know exactly where the fault lies.

New Book On "Flying Saucers" Puts Believers Far Out On Limb

One of the latest in the flood of "flying saucer" books, less than a month off the press, contributes at least one definite step to the recurrent agitation over strange objects—or things that look like strange objects—in the sky.

"They Knew Too Much About Flying Saucers", by Gray Barker, may spend most of its pages going "around Joe's Barn" with a story that gets amazingly disconnected. And it may give far too much space to dialogues and descriptions that are strictly so-what, as far as getting to the point is concerned.

But one thing is for sure.

The book will push the all-out believers farther out on a limb than they've ever been before. We have heard about some of the more fantastic beliefs of the blindly faithful in the "saucer" cult, but this is the first time we have found a first class variety of mighty strange assertions inside the covers of a book.

* * *

ALL OF WHICH, let it be remembered, may serve a good purpose, even though its goes around end to do it. "They Knew Too Much About Flying Saucers" will undoubtedly help keep alive talk of the flying discs, and at a time when they seem to have been fading a bit from the daily run of news.

Even the author himself, in perhaps the most commendable point of the whole book, declares his belief that most of the "saucer" stories are "bunk". But Barker goes on to unfold his wild and wandering accounts to emphasize, apparently, that somewhere beyond the hysteria and hoakum—buried somewhere beneath the comical baloney sold and circulated in the name of "saucer mystery" stuff—is a steady, clear-minded and logical spark that glows brightly through discussions on the subject.

And that is that ALL of the phenomena cannot be explained away as light reflection, freak atmospheric conditions, weather balloons, the planet Venus, imagination, indigestion, and what not. A Circleville high school teacher said it mighty well sometime ago when he pointed out how foolish it is for us to judge and try to measure the "saucer" mystery solely by earthbound standards and know-how.

There is no better illustration of the conceit with which we as humans are too often inclined to gaze upon all else in the sphere of our existence. Deep in our hearts, a lot of us are certain we know all the answers—and every now and then we like to show it.

We're glad that "They Knew Too Much About Flying Saucers" touched, even though lightly, upon that truth. Because otherwise, it contains ever so much that serious "saucerites" just won't accept without reactions ranging from wide grins to snorts of disapproval.

* * *

BARKER, A businessman and educator who says he used to laugh at "saucer" reports until he ran into the awful truth, opens his story with various accounts of a "monster" allegedly seen on a dark West Virginia hillside.

The "monster" scared dogs, spit fire, loomed 10 feet tall "with a bright green body and a blood-red face", scared the daylights out of seven eyewitnesses, and gave off an odor like the smell of burning metal. It caused no end of excitement.

There is a good bit more about the West Virginia incident, but the story goes on—eventually—to its main shocker: how certain men happened to discover the secret of the "saucers" and were hushed into nervous clams by three guys who wore black suits!

And oh yes, before you get to the trio in dark garb, you can read about the little man who got out of a saucer, according to witnesses who "were not drinking men", to dip water from a California creek with a bucket!

Then, after you've read almost to the end, you can also dwell upon the theory said to be held by one Richard S. Shaver. He believes, the author writes, that a degenerate race of people inhabits caverns deep inside the earth on which we live.

Wow! Are They Democrats of Republicans?

WASHINGTON (AP)—"You did it when we weren't looking."

That is the complaint some senators made against the rest of the Senate for inserting—in the new superhighway program — a few sentences which, if they stand, may cause confusion for years.

It is true some weren't looking. Some weren't listening either. And some weren't there.

The Senate debated Monday, and 14 hours Tuesday, before approving a bill to create over the next 13 years a 40,000-mile network of superhighways costing the federal government about 25 billion dollars and the states about 2 billions.

Since the federal government will pay most of the bill, Sen. Chavez (D-NM) proposed the government should decide the wage rates for men who build the network. He said the secretary of labor should do the deciding.

This wasn't unusual. Under a law passed in 1931 the labor secretary decides wage rates for workers on projects paid for by the government. This applies to contracts for direct federal construction as well as to contracts for schools, hospitals, housing, airports and other facilities built with federal-aid funds.

The secretary decides what the prevailing rate is in the area for the same kind of work—in this case it would be roadbuilding—and says that should be the wage rate for the highway builder.

There were a lot of objections, particularly from Southern Democrats, including Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark).

Their arguments, boiled down, ran like this: What area would the secretary select as a yardstick? An area close to where a strip of highway is to be built or some city 100 miles away where wages might be higher? What would happen to the economy of a rural area if the secretary fixed wage rates for roadbuilders out of line with wages paid nearby farmhands? Would they quit the farms to work on the roads?

Besides, so the arguments went, the labor secretary shouldn't have final say. The states—this was the states' rights argument — should have a voice in deciding rates.

Fulbright suggested it might be well to let anyone who disagreed with the labor secretary appeal to the courts. Opponents argued this might foul up the whole highway program, get it snarled in court fights all over the United States for years.

The Senate finally approved Chavez's idea: the labor secretary should decide the rates. But it was a day of confusion on the floor. And just about dinner time Fulbright got up again, proposing as an amendment to Chavez's proposal that anyone disagreeing with the secretary's wage rates could appeal to the courts.

The Senate quickly voted for this. Sometime later Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), an opponent of Fulbright's amendment, realized what had happened. He asked the Senate to reconsider.

He hadn't heard the amendment read, he said, because there was too much disorder on the floor at the time.

He said he doubted many senators knew what they were voting for. Sen. Morse (D-Ore) said he didn't know about it because he was out to dinner. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said he didn't realize it either. His back was turned at the time, he said.

The Senate let the Fulbright amendment stand. But the Senate bill differs from a similar measure passed by the House which said the labor secretary should decide wage rates but didn't provide for any appeal to the courts.

There can be no highway law until both houses iron out their differences. The Senate may bow to the House and agree to drop the Fulbright amendment.

Strike Idleness In Nation Hits 1952 High Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that strike idleness was higher during the first four months of this year than for any comparable period since 1952.

About 7,700,000 man days of working time were lost from January through April, the Labor Department said. The comparable figure for last year was 5,410,000 man days, that for 1954 was 4,610,000 and that for 1953 was 6,400,000. In January-April 1952, strike idleness amounted to 9,680,000 man days—the time of one man for one day.

The department said last month saw 450 strikes in effect, idling 210,000 workers for an aggregate of 1½ million man days. This compared with 350 stoppages involving 175,000 workers for two million lost man days in March.

Old Age Pensioners Slated For Better Setup On July 1

The new law lifts the present $200 ceiling on payments for such care and leaves it up to the state to determine the sums needed.

Officials said the current limit has been woefully inadequate for many Ohioans receiving old age assistance. They said the change would permit transfer to hospitals and rest homes of many aged persons requiring such care.

Counties have been drawing on their poor relief funds to pay for care that exceeds the $200 limit when the money was available. But several counties have lacked money for supplemental payments, leaving some of their aged residents without proper care, officials reported.

Numerous counties have said they will halt supplemental payments after the new law goes into effect. That poses a very real problem for the state welfare department, says Director Henry J. Robison.

He has asked the state controlling board for the permission required under the new law to establish a "pool fund" out of which medical, hospital and nursing care would be paid by the state on the basis of need.

Robison estimates that the fund should approximate seven million dollars a year. He expects the federal government to reimburse the state for about a million dollars of such expenditures annually.

The director's request for a four million dollar medical payment fund for the last half of the year is under study by the board. Robinson suggests that the money could be advanced from the 66 million dollars appropriated to the Division of Aid for the Aged for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

But he said that would not leave enough money for old age pensions and division operations during the entire fiscal year. Replacement of the money for pensions would be up to the Legislature meeting next January if the board approves.

Robison said appropriations of more than 70 millions for the current bookkeeping year are adequate for pensions and division operations. He estimated the smaller appropriation for the next fiscal year might fall about a miollin dollars short of pension and division operating costs without provision for the medical care fund.

Some 98,000 Ohioans now are receiving old age pensions. About one-third of those also require medical, hospital or nursing care. The pension maximum is $65 a month but payments average slightly below $56. The medical allowance is in addition to monthly benefits.

"The present $200 allowance for that does not begin to pay the bill," Robison said. "When that sum is inadequate, county welfare departments draw on poor relief funds for supplementation."

Robison said he recently received letters from more than half of the 88 county welfare departments in the state and from the County Commissioners' Assn.

"All of the letters state that the counties will assume no responsibility for supplementing old age assistance after July 1," Robison told the controlling board.

3 Ohio Postal Units Being Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Post offices in Warren, Youngstown and Cleveland are being inspected today by staff investigators of a House Government Operations subcommittee.

An aide said they want to discover whether the post office department violated regulations in purchasing vehciles from Twin Coach Co., Kent, Ohio.

The vehicles were purchased on an experimental basis and include "standup trucks," in which the driver stands.

Comanche Chief's Widow Visits Grave

CACHE, Okla. (AP) — Quanah Parker was remembered Wednesday by Topay, the last surviving widow of the famed Comanche Indian chief.

The old and crippled Indian woman visited Parker's grave and said she is "looking forward to joining him." The great chief died 45 years ago, but Topay, the last of his eight wives, has lost track of her age. She admits to having married Parker when she was 25.

Star Farmers To Be Given FFA Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Elson J. Cassidy, 17, of Rt. 3, Minerva, will be honored tonight as Ohio's "star state farmer" of 1956.

He will receive the award at the annual banquet of the Ohio chapter of the Future Farmers of America (FFA), a highlight of the two-day convention which ends Friday.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, an honorary FFA member, will address the gathering.

Agricultural judging contests and election of officers are on Friday's agenda, with more than 2,000 delegates expected.

Cassidy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cassidy of near Louisville. The youth handles his father's 93-acre farm and 140 rented acres.

He has farming investments of about $8,000, including 14 registered Holstein cows.

Plenty Of Spilled Milk To Cry Over

DANVERS, Mass. (AP) — There was plenty of spilled milk to cry over on the Newburyport turnpike —3,500 gallons to be exact.

Truck driver Jesse Bolles, 48, veered his tank truck to avoid a car and the truck, Boston-bound with 3,500 gallons of Maine milk, jackknifed and overturned.

Bolles and his son, Paul, 12, escaped with bruises but holiday traffic on the busy turnpike was held up nearly four hours while firefighters washed the milk from the highway.

Idle Pay Claims Showing Increase

COLUMBUS (AP)—New claimants for unemployment compensation increased to 7,795 in the week ended May 26, the state bureau of unemployment compensation reports. Claimants for the previous week totaled 7,408.

The BUC said old claimants, those unemployed one week or more, dropped from 46,171 to 45,420 in the two-week period.

County's New Photostat Machine Expected To Do Big Task

Reproduction Uses Principle Of Photography

Print Appears Like Snapshot Negative After Processing

Pickaway County's photostating machine, located in the basement of the court house, is an ominous looking piece of equipment at first glance—but county officials agree that the machine will accomplish a monumental task for the taxpayer's benefit.

Preparatory to being photostated, papers are divided into various classes—such as deeds, mortgages, etc. Raised letters or seals are brushed over with a ball of cheesecloth which has been rubbed on a carbon block. Gold seals are dusted with talcum powder.

* * *

THESE THINGS are done so that the symbols will photograph clearly.

When the papers have been divided into their respective classes, they are then stamped with the book and page number. Odd numbers are placed in the upper right corner of the page, even numbers to the left. However, numbers are sometimes placed in the middle of the top edge of the page.

By stamping the book and page numbers on the original document, the photograph will show the same number, and the owner will know with certainty its place in the record.

The papers are next placed in correct numerical order of book and page number, and are then ready for copying.

For loose leaf binders, the sheets are punched to fit the binding posts. Then, they are placed in a large lever or power cutter and the three outside margins are trimmed. After trimming, the sheets are placed in the binders.

* * *

ONE PRINT (two pages) per minute can be produced. Mechanical focusing provides the opportunity to make prints from 70 to 120 percent of the original size of the document being photostated.

All the operator does is place the document to be photostated in the holder, presses a button for the exposure and waits until a pre-set electric timer rings. All the rest is done by the machine.

Another advantage to the machine, in addition to being able to record documents efficiently instead of having them copied by hand, is that additional copies of an original document may be made if the occasion should arise.

Lausche Sees Peace If Free Men Rule

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche says "peace will be attained in the world only when tyrants are brought to their knees and free men rule".

The governor spoke at a Memorial Day service in the little 137-year-old Hickory Flat cemetery, five miles north of here. Several hundred persons attended the ceremony at which a veterans' memorial was dedicated.

Declaring that "patriotism is not old-fashioned," the governor said:

'We must realize the full meaning of the strength and liberties under which we ilve. . . .Let us visualize and imagine what the dead would say to us if we let their sacrifices be in vain."

Hollywood's Latest Craze: Bridey Murphy's Hypnotism

Toast of the town after only six weeks here is a Scottish - born Canadian named Bill McGonigle. At various parties he has hypnotized Kathryn Grayson into telling of another life as an English housewife, Jane Powell into persisting with her diet and Phyliss Kirk into giving up sweets and cigarettes.

Hollywood embraces fads with vigor — author Gayelord Hauser's diet and scrabble struck hard here. So it was only natural that the movie folk should become intrigued with hypnotism. A professional entertainer is currently hypnotizing notables nightly at Mocambo. Volumes on hypnotism have been snapped up at the book stores.

McGonigle, 34, has been invited to 15 exclusive parties in recent weeks and, to hear him tell it, he has been a sensation. Among his amazing achievements was shutting up Mickey Rooney.

The obstreperous Mick was always getting into the act while McGonigle was hypnotizing others at a recent party. So the hypnotist put the whammy on Mickey and made him sit silently in a chair.

"I was a little nervous about working in front of these people," the Scotsman observed, 'because all of them are entertainers in their own right. But they seemed to be fascinated by what I was doing."

And no wonder. He regressed Kathryn Grayson to a "previous life" as the wife of an older man and the mother of three children in 19th century England. McGonigle said that the singer gave an amazing reproduction of the talk of a semi-illiterate Lancashire woman.

"At one point she started crying that her husband had died," he related. "Some of the guests like Sterling Hayden got alarmed, so I brought her back to the present.

Boys On Tractor Sure Play Havoc

REVERE, Mass. (AP)—Two boys, ages 7 and 12, stepped into a 10-ton tractor at a construction job after the workers had gone home.

Seconds after they pressed down the accelerator a garage, a fence, a second garage and a 1955 automobile were demolished.

Bender, Bricker Split On Ballot

WASHINGTON (AP) —Ohio's Republican Sens. George Bender and John W. Bricker, disagreed in their vote Tuesday as the Senate amended its version of the highway bill to approve a federal prevailing wage provision.

Bender voted for the amendment and Bricker against. It was passed by a 42-37 rollcall vote.

Later, both voted for an amendment introduced by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) to write into the bill the apportionment formula for the interstate system used by the House. It was defeated, 55-27.

Dad Of 'Aquatots' Ruled As Insane; To Enter Hospital

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Russell Tongay has been ruled insane and will be transferred from prison to a state hospital.

The former Miami swimming instructor, serving 10 years for the death of his 5-year-old Aquatot daughter Kathy, is a maniac-depressive with suicidal tendencies, according to the order committing him to the hospital.

Warden DeWitt Sinclair said Tongay, now 39, has been a "very troublesome prisoner" since being confined to prison in 1954.

Tongay, a former Coast Guardsman, was convicted on a charge that he forced Kathy to make a 33-foot dive that fatally injured her. Kathy and her brother Bubba performed at swimming exhibitions over the country

Lausche Ready If Lightning Strikes Him

Ohio Governor In Mood To Accept Honors At Convention

Although terming his chances for nomination nil, the former Cleveland mayor and judge indicates that he would be in position for the lightning to strike.

"I will allow my name to go before the convention," the five-term executive told newsmen.

Lausche adds that he would attend the presidential nominating session opening Aug. 13 in Chicago.

He has attended only two party conventions as a spectator, as the 1940 convention in Chicago and the 1948 gathering in Philadelphia.

This year delegates carrying 54 of Ohio's 58 convention votes are pledged to cast them for Lausche as the state's "favorite son" candidate for President.

The organization faction of Ohio's split delegation to the 1952 national convention cast its first vote for Adlai E. Sevenson, that year's nominee. Former U.S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, the faction's "favorite son," released his delegates after an early Stevenson trend appeared.

The other half of the Ohio delegation remained with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Lausche's statement that his name would go before the 1956 convention confirmed reports circulating about the Statehouse for several days.

Politicians saw in it confirmation that Lausche was playing his usual role of keeping himself available without actively seeking office. They recalled Lausche's oft - repeated observation that "high public office does not come to him who avidly seeks it."

Southern Democratic leaders and other party stalwarts have described Lausche as presidential timber. Various newspapers and publications of national circulation have reviewed his chances.

The governor, himself, says he does not harbor ambitions for national office but would not spurn a presidential nomination.

"There will be no meeting prior to going to Chicago," he said.

But he admitted that at least six Ohioans are likely prospects for the honor of presenting his name. They are: Former U.S. Sen. James W. Huffman of Columbus, second choice of Lausche-pledged delegates; Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, gubernatorial nominee and former federal price controller; James W. Shocknessy of Columbus, Ohio Turnpike Commission chairman and party wheelhorse; Thomas A. Burke, former U.S. Senator and Cleveland mayor; Anthony J. Celebrezze, Cleveland mayor and former state senator, and Frazier Reams of Toledo former Independent congressman.

Ex-Policeman To Testify In Burglary Case

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—Another former East Liverpool policeman is scheduled to testify for the state today, as the burglary trial of Patrolmen Ira W. Cunningham and Jerry Raimond resumes.

Dallas Eugene Bishop, 41, a former special officer, will follow Robert McBane, a former patrolman, to the stand. Both Bishop and McBane pleaded guilty to committing burglaries while they were East Liverpool law officers.

McBane testified Tuesday he had opened the door of the Joseph Berman Lumber Co. so Cunningham and Raimond could enter. McBane said he drove to the place in a police cruiser after loaning his station wagon to Raimond and Cunningham. He said Cunningham was building an addition to his home.

Also expected to be called as a state's witness is Patrolman George Kidd, demoted from lieutenant after the grand jury indicted seven officers and criticized the police department's efficiency. Kidd is returning from a Florida sick leave.

Patrolman Robert L. Hanna, 31, acquitted of a burglary charge May 24, will be reinstated to permit him to collect $153 vacation money, then he will quit the force, Mayor Arnold W. Devon said.

2 Robert Morgans Confuse Democrats

The newly elected county judge is Robert B. Morgan. So is the county's state senator.

The two are not related, but both are Lillington lawyers and both are Wake Forest College graduates. To add to the confusion the wife of each is named Alice and each has a sister named Lucille. The senator still is receiving congratulations on the judge's victory in last Saturday's Democratic prmary.

Murphy Company Marks 50th Year

The G. C. Murphy Company store in Circleville represents a firm that has shown amazing growth through solid business principles and close association with the buying public.

The company this year is celebrating its Golden Jubilee, highlighted by June anniversary sales throughout the nation. Circleville's Murphy store is in the heart of the community's trade life, at Court and Main.

When the organization was incorporated in 1906, little thought was then given to its prospects for growth to present-day proportions. All efforts were concentrated, instead, upon a strong foundation.

These pioneer efforts have paid off.

* * *

BY 1911, there were 12 Murphy stores in towns surrounding the headquarters in McKeesport, Pa. And in that same year, John S Mack and Walter C. Shaw purchased controlling interest in the company. Until his death in 1940, Mack served as president and chairman of the board of directors.

Joint efforts of the two men welded a business policy that has made the familiar Murphy store a part of the typical American scene everywhere.

It was an early theory of Murphy management that the so-called "dime store" need not limit its service to customers by handling only those items retailing at no more than 10 cents. Time has proven the theory correct.

During the past fifty years the original 12 stores which were in operation in 1911 have grown to a chain of 303 stores in 13 states and the District of Columbia. Other stores in new states are planned for North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida in the near future. At the present time a total of 34 new stores are in the planning stage or under construction.

For the year 1911, total sales of the 12 stores in operation at that time was $251,699.00. In 1955 the Company reported a total sales volume of $196,423,090.00 in the 303 stores in operation during that year. In only three years since 1911 has the Company shown a sales loss, the greatest of which was 3.7 percent in 1932.

In addition to its pioneering managerial policies, the Murphy Company has instituted many other developments in the variety store field. Murphy stores were the first to carry a complete line of electrical supplies.

* * *

WOMEN'S APPAREL and style merchandise were also shown in Murphy stores years before such items were handled by other variety chains. Even in the early days, the services of style and apparel specialists were secured to help develop these new departments to their fullest extent.

Home Furnishings lines were expanded early this year and all Murphy stores now feature occasional furniture for budgetwise homemakers, curtains, draperies, lamps, rugs, pictures, mirrors, household linens, everything for the dining room and kitchen, patio furniture, barbecue accessories, lawn and garden equipment and supplies.

In recent years, the company has spent vast sums of money in perfecting merchandise and advertising techniques to promote maximum sales. The Murphy past is indeed a one of pioneering.

Observance of the company's Golden Jubilee is company-wide in scope and represents the result of two years of careful planning by a Fiftieth Anniversary Committee, composed of various executives of the Company. It is a year-long celebration, the high-light of which is represented in the month-long June Anniversary Sale which starts tomorrow.

An accelerated newspaper advertising schedule publicizes this value-giving event in all towns where Murphy stores are located. A record-breaking amount of money was invested in special merchandise for the Fiftieth Anniversary Sale which is offered shoppers at substantial savings.

Good Deed Brings High Drama For Boy

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Stanley Geiser, 12, provided drama on a rooftop when he tried to do a good deed.

The youngster grabbed a live 220-volt wire while retrieving a friend's slipper off a second-story roof.

Stanley, more scared than anything else, said the hot wire "sent shocks going through my arms and hands and when I tried to get away it hurt more."

Green Proves Lucky Color For Flaherty

Chicago Irishman, 29, Wins Top Laurels In 500-Mile Speed Test

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If any race driver still thought green was a bad luck color (an ancient superstition in the trade), they could get a sound argument today from George Francis Patrick (Pat) Flaherty, who won the 40th 500-mile race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Flaherty, a red-haired, 29-year-old racing veteran, roared unscathed Wednesday around a track littered with oil and debris from seven bad wrecks and innumerable spins and skids.

Two drivers, two pit crew members and two spectators were hurt as cars splattered against the concrete retaining walls and banged into one another.

Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., suffered a fractured collar bone and Jimmy Daywalt of Indianapolis suffered a burned arm when their cars crashed into the walls in separate accidents. They were reported in good condition at a hospital.

Flaherty, who runs a bar when he isn't racing, didn't put a scratch on the big green shamrock painted on the front of his helmet.

He started on the pole as the fastest qualifier in Speedway history and he beat veteran Sam Hanks of Burbank, Calif., to the finish line in the closest windup since Wilbur Shaw nipped Ralph Hepburn by 2.15 seconds in 1937.

Flaherty took the 41-year-old Hanks by 20.46 seconds, or about a third of the 2½-mile track.

The racing during competition was the fastest ever but due to an hour and 11 minutes of slowdowns for wrecks the final average was 128.49 miles an hour compared with Bill Vukovich's 1954 record of 130.84.

Flaherty missed Dick Rathmann's spinning car about two feet by splendid driving.

Flaherty, car owner John Zink of Tulsa, Okla., and master mechanic A. J. Watson of Glendale, Calif., won't know how much they won until the annual victory dinner tonight but Pat picked up $19,200 in lap prizes alone — $150 for each lap he led. The Speedway sets the purse according to the gate, which looked like more than 100,000 customers in spite of overnight rain.

The purse, including awards from accessory firms to cars using their products, was $270,000 last year and Sweikert won $76,138.

Don Freeland of Redondo Beach, Calif., finished third unofficially, followed by Johnnie Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., the 1950 winner; Dick Rathmann of Trenton, N.J., who pulled out of the spin that menaced Flaherty and then crashed on the south straightaway after crossing the finish line; Sweikert; Rodger Ward, Los Angeles; Bob Veith of Oakland, Calif., highest rookie finisher; Jimmy Reece, Oklahoma City; and Cliff Griffith, Indianapolis.

Gophers, Bobcats Slated To Tangle

ATHENS (AP)—Big Ten champion Minnesota and Mid-American Conference king Ohio University meet in a best-of-three series for the NCAA district four baseball championship here Friday and Saturday.

Minnesota walloped Notre Dame yesterday, 15-5 and 10-1, to win a best-of-three series. Ohio U. came from behind with a five-run eighth inning to clip Cincinnati in a single game, 8-6.

Pastrano Topples Spieser Again

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Willie Pastrano's finally got Chuck Spieser out of his hair, but the swift New Orleans heavyweight's future plans have little pattern.

Pastrano, borrowing a page from the baseball manual, hit to all fields last night. He displayed a newly acquired style of infighting in winning a nationally televised 10-round split decision over the former Olympic team member from Detroit.

Bobby Thompson Paying Off For Braves-Giants Swap

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been a long time coming, but Bobby Thomson finally looks ready to deliver the payoff for the Milwaukee Braves in that ill-fated deal they arranged to get him from the New York Giants in 1954.

The Swattin' Scot was the man the Braves figured they needed for the pennant, and so they packaged pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, catcher Ebba St.Clair, infielder Billy Klaus and about $50,000 and sent them to the Polo Grounds for Bobby and catcher Sam Calderone.

You know what happened — Thomson broke an ankle in spring training, hit only two home runs and the Braves finished third. The Giants won the flag — with Antonelli winning 21 games.

Last season, Thomson hit 12 homers while playing on a part-time basis and the Braves finished second to Brooklyn.

Now Thomson has eight home runs so far this season and the slammed four homers, had six hits in nine trips and drove in seven runs as the Braves split a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs Wednesday.

All told, the two clubs combined for 15 home runs among the record 50 which were blasted in the 16-game Memorial Day card.

For all the records and Thomson's great day, however, most of the excitement was set off by Mickey Mantle's "nearmiss." The Oklahoma strong boy, jolting his 19th and 20th homers of the season as the New York Yankees swept Washington, smacked one against the facade on the third tier in right field that missed by 18 inches of being the first fair ball ever hit out of mammoth Yankee Stadium.

Thomson hit two homers in each game — his first "double" since Aug. 22, 1953. A pair of two-run homers by Hobie Landrith and Dee Fondy in the sixth got the job done in the opener for the Cubs, however, 10-9. Thomson's three-run blast triggered a four-run sixth that helped Milwaukee to an 11-9 edge in the nightcap.

Cub pitcher Russ Meyer and Billy Bruton were banished from the opener after exchanging blows when Meyer conked Bruton on his protective helmet with a pitch.

Cincinnati replaced St. Louis as the NL runner-up, sweeping the Cardinals 6-3 and 6-5. Ray Jablonski's three-run homer in the eighth won the opener. Doubles by Frank Robinson and Ted Kluszewski fired a six-run third that won the nightcap.

Pittsburgh held fourth place, 1½ games back in a split with the New York Giants. Dale Long's triple won the opener in 10 innings 5-4 for the Pirates. A two-run double by Al Dark broke up the nightcap for the Giants in 15 innings, 5-3.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia also split, the Dodgers scoring six in the sixth off Robin Roberts to win 6-5 in the opener. Then the Phils, with seven unearned runs, ran off with a 12-3 decision.

The Yankees beat the Senators 4-3 and 12-5. Mantle's big belt with two on gave them the lead in the opener. Mantle's 20th homer cracked a 3-all tie in the nightcap and a five-run sixth iced it.

Billy Pierce needed help, but won No. 100 in the majors and third straight over Cleveland as Chicago clipped the Indians twice 6-3 and 9-8.

Baltimore twice edged Boston in the ninth, 2-1 and 5-4. Bob Hale's single broke up the second game. Bob Nieman's single ended the opener.

Virgil Trucks, despite a swollen ankle that benched him for 10 days, three-hit Kansas City as Detroit beat the A's 5-1 in the second half of a morning-afternoon pair on a two-run homer by Al Kaline and a three-run shot by Frank House. The Tigers took the opener 11-3.

Fans Turning Out Better For Baseball

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball, enjoying its biggest day of the season, played to 240,354 fans yesterday for an increase of nearly 50,000 over Memorial Day a year ago.

The attendance for the eight doubleheaders on May 30, 1955 was 194,448. Yesterday a total of 122,025 saw the four American League doubleheaders and 118,329 were on hand for the four National League twinbills.

George Troutman Wins MVP Award

George Troutman, ex-Circleville High School athletic star, won the most valuable player award in track at Capital University.

Troutman has set many records in the discus toss and the shot put while at the Lutheran university in Columbus. Many of his wins have helped Cap to victories.

The 240-pound Troutman is also the top fullback on the grid iron squad. And for all his weight, Troutman is very fast and agile, as many opponents have found out.

Redleg Spurt Puts Ohioans In 2nd Place

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs are proof that you can go from plowboy to President mighty quickly in the National League this year.

When all games had been played Monday night the Reds were only a half game out of fifth place after losing three straight. By the same time last night a winning spurt of three games had boosted them into second place, but a game out of first.

Of course, their hold on second place is quite precarious but at least the Rhinelanders have squatters' rights on that position.

A double victory over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, 6-3 and 6-5, pushed them past both Pittsburgh and the Cards although the margin over St. Louis is only .004 in percentage.

Ray Jablonski's three-run homer in the eighth locked up the first game. In the second, the Reds squandered most of a 6-0 lead and then got some help from the weather as a downpour of rain ended action in the eighth. The score reverted back to its seven-inning 6-5 status although Cincinnati had tallied a run in its half of the eighth.

Johnny Klippstein went all the way to win the opener. Paul LaPalme got credit for the second although Hershel Freeman and Joe Black followed him to the mound after the Cardinals started whittling away at the Cincinnati lead.

The double victory assured Cincinnati of one of its most successful road trips in years. The Rhinelanders will wind up visits to every other city in the league tonight and they already have won 8 of the 13 games played.

Stock Car Racing To Resume Sunday

There was no racing at the local track Memorial Day due to the large race at Powell Speedway.

Stock cars will continue to be run every Sunday. Beginning June 6, open competition races will be held on Wednesday nights.

Nashua Poses Question As Defeat Comes

Can the son of Nasrullah, who sold for $1,251,200 last winter and has won more money than any other horse in history, carry as much as 130 pounds and still win?

To achieve greatness, many horsemen say a horse must be able to win with even more than 130 in the saddle. On that basis Nashua still has to prove himself.

The strapping 4-year-old picked up 130 (the most he has ever carried) in the Metropolitan Mile at Belmont Park yesterday and wound up fourth as Midafternoon, who never had won a stakes race, ripped off the distance in 1:35 under 111 pounds, and paid $20.60. The time equalled the stake record established in 1930 by Jack High.

The fourth place money of $2,500 boosted Nashua's earnings to $1,102,865.

2 Baseball Games Scheduled For TV Saturday Afternoon

Two games are scheduled for Saturday. Cincinnati's red hot Redlegs will face the New York Giants, with the game starting at 1:30 p. m. on Channel 4. The New York Yankees, leaders in the American League, face the Detroit Tigers, with that contest starting at 1 p. m. on Channel 10.

Underdogs Collect Wins At Lebanon

LEBANON (AP)—A couple of underdogs grabbed victories last night in feature races at Lebanon Raceway's harness race meeting. They set new time marks for themselves in winning.

Niles C. Worthy, owned and driven by Clark Dishman of Muncie, Ind., raced to victory in the class 25 pace in 2:08.4. His previous time mark was 2:10.

Newsman, competing in the class 23 pace, lowered his mark to 2:07.1 as he won that event. It was his second victory in three starts here. Newsman, owned by Mid Center Stables of Middletown, was driven by Eddie Boyer of Springfield.

Double Loss Drops Indians To Third Place

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, dropped to third place by a double loss to the Chicago White Sox yesterday, leave tonight on an eastern tour.

They open in Washington tomorrow night and are scheduled to play 16 games in 14 days before they return home.

Now trailing the New York Yankees by six games, and percentage points behind the White Sox, the Indians need a lot of victories on this trip.

They lost two loosely played games yesterday by scores of 6-3 and 9-8. The Indians came up with a six run rally, featuring three home runs, in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

Cleveland came out of a hitting slump, getting 10 hits in the first game and 11 in the second. But Chicago batters rapped five Cleveland pitchers for seven hits in the first game, and got 13 hits off four Indian pitchers in the nightcap.

Five Chicago players were hit by pitched balls in the opener, one short of a record.

In the nightcap, Cleveland right fielder Stu Locklin lost Larry Doby's easy fly in the sun and it dropped for a double, scoring two runs. The White Sox got another run in a wild pitch by Bud Daley.

Art Houtteman lost his first start of the season in the opener, leaving in the sixth after Sherm Lollar hit a two-run homer. Billy Pierce got the victory, his third of the season over the Indians, although he needed help from Dixie Howell and Jim Wilson. Cleveland's Vic Wertz hit two homers and a double in the opener.

Snead Is Favorite In Texas Open

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' biggest golf tournament both in money and quality, the $70,000 Texas International Open, started today with Sam Snead in the familiar role of favorite but with a score of others strongly backed.
